WILSON ENDORSED BY THE CONVENTION

Democrats of North Carolina Close Strenuous All-Night Session at Raleigh.

NO INSTRUCTIONS, HOWEVER

Adjournment Reached at 6:30 O'clock Yesterday Morning—Some Sidelights of a Great Gathering. State Committee.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—The North Carolina Democratic State convention adjourned at 6:30 o'clock this morning after an all-night session that taxed the political acumen of the contending leaders and the physical endurance of the 2,000 delegates very greatly, the adjournment following a sensational climax that was the fiercest fight of the session, this being over Presidential preference.

As the night advanced the Wilson men had receded from their determination to "instruct" for Wilson and declared their purpose to put through the convention a resolution "endorsing" Wilson.

This resolution was offered at 5:30 o'clock by J. Crawford Biggs right after the Wilson forces had elected their slate as delegates to the National convention. There was the wildest disorder as Underwood supporters shouted opposition to the measure. Scarcely had he ceased reading the resolution when there came a motion by R. N. Hackett to adjourn and with it came demands for roll call on this motion, a long and tedious task. The final result was a refusal to adjourn, 543 to 377.

Then came a substitute resolution by former Congressman Chas. R. Thomas, setting out at length reasons why North Carolina should send an uninstructed delegation and resolving to this end. Motions and counter motions and a perfect bedlam of disorder followed the offering of this substitute. Mr. Thomas finally withdrew the substitute and a long and exceedingly noisy roll call on the Biggs resolution to "endorse" followed. It was carried 503 to 393. There were in the hall less than a fourth of the convention membership. However, the voting strength of all the counties except two—Clay and Avery—was cast.

The delegates at large chosen as the outcome of another very stormy scene and constituting the Wilson "slate", were E. J. Hale, Cumberland, 530 votes; R. B. Glenn, Forsyth, 754; E. J. Justice, Guilford, 581; W. C. Hammer, Randolph, 555; J. S. Carr, Durham, 722; W. C. Newland, Caldwell, 668; W. C. Dowd, Charlotte, 869; A. W. McLean, Robeson, 766. Also it was found that one other candidate, W. T. Dortch, of Goldsboro, had received enough votes to nominate, and, on motion of Josephus Daniels, he was added to the delegation with power to vote his proportion of the States' votes at Baltimore. Those defeated were H. G. Chatham, Surry; Chas. R. Thomas, Craven; W. T. Crawford, Haywood; F. M. Grice and F. M. Glass.

Another stirring crisis in the early morning hours of the convention was during the adoption of the platform when the Simmons and Kitchin forces in the United States Senatorial contest contended over a majority Simmons report and minority Kitchin report involving endorsement of the North Carolina delegation in Congress and the State administration by Governor Kitchin and other State officers. The minority report presented by J. S. Manning, a close friend of Governor Kitchin, insisted that all that should be done was to endorse the record of Democracy in State and National affairs, thereby avoiding any action calculated to influence the fight that is on between Governor Kitchin and Senator Simmons over the Senatorship to be settled in primary next November. The Simmons forces, through Cameron Morrison and others contended that there should be endorsement of Congressional deegation and State administration. It was a hot three hours' fight that resulted in the adoption of the majority report.

For the long term Corporation Commissioner the contest was a long and noisy one, George Pell ultimately getting the nomination on the first ballot with 507 votes against 215 for A. J. Maxwell, and 205 for A. B. Justice. The fight over the short term Corporation Commissioner resulted in the nomination of E. L. Travis to succeed himself, the vote being 556 for Travis; 386 for G. S. Daniels, and 32 for L. C. Bagwell.

The other really strenuous contest in the convention was for Lieutenant Governorship in which E. L. Daughtridge won on the fifth ballot with 583 votes. It is notable that on the fourth ballot the vote stood W. E. Daniel 393, E. L. Daughtridge 353; J. G. Shaw 201, J. D. Boushall, one and a fraction and McRae nine.

The convention elected Francis D. Winston, Bertie, and Ellis Gardner, of Yancey county, presidential electors. There were a large number of nominations for elector, but it was at length decided to elect one from the East and one from the West by acclamation and this was done.

Organization Committees.

A feature of interest in the early hours of the convention was the naming of their respective convention rep-

TAFT FORCES WIN ALL OF CONTESTS

Committee Gives Twenty-four Delegates to The President.

MEETING WAS VERY PEACEFUL

It Opened With A Contest Which Seemed to Forecast A Degree of Friction—Delegates From Alabama and Arkansas

Chicago, June 7.—Twenty-four delegates from Alabama and Arkansas were added today to the Taft column by the action of the Republican National Committee on the so-called Roosevelt contests from those States.

All of the contests presented before the committee today were decided in Taft's favor and in all but two the decision of the committee was unanimous, although one roll call test apparently had shown 15 anti-Taft votes.

The cases decided today were those of the six delegates at large and the two each in the First, Second, Fifth, Sixth and Ninth Congressional districts in Alabama and the four delegates at large, and the two each in the First and Second districts of Arkansas.

There remain to be heard of the Arkansas contests those in the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Seventh districts.

The contest over the six delegates at large from Arizona was postponed until a later day on motion of committeeman Penrose, of Pennsylvania.

In view of the bitter feeling between the Taft and Roosevelt adherents, the meeting was surprisingly peaceful, although it opened with a contest which seemed to forecast a degree of friction, which however, failed to materialize. This contest arose over a renewal by Senator Borah, of Idaho, of his motion of yesterday which would permit only eight members of the committee to demand a roll call instead of 20 as provided by the existing rules.

Dennis T. Flynn, of Oklahoma, holding at the time the proxy of Committeeman Flanigan, of Nevada, moved to lay the Borah motion on the table. Mr. Borah wanted to debate the motion, but Chairman Rosewater declared it undebatable as a proposition of parliamentary law.

"I don't intend to be choked off by a gag thus early in the campaign," said Senator Borah, with some show of heat, "and I will either have my say here, or I will occupy such a position that this convention will make no progress."

"This committee will conduct its proceedings under the usual parliamentary rules," said Mr. Rosewater, with marked dignity.

"But you shall not adopt any rule or gag by laying motions on the table this early in the campaign," retorted the Idaho Senator.

The committee proceeded to table the Borah motion by a viva voce vote, and then Mr. Borah was permitted to continue as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, we will not make any progress here. Now, I know that you have a steam roller. I don't even desire to cushion the steam roller. I am perfectly willing that the steam roller shall operate, but I want to say here and now that it will be known to the country that it does operate, how it operates, who is operating it.

"Men who have not the moral courage to record their vote before the people of this country are not worthy to represent the great Republican organization of these United States. (Applause).

"Men who have not the manhood to stand up here and state for whom they are going to vote, how they are going to vote are evidently acting as ——"

The chairman: "The gentleman from Idaho is out of order."

Mr. Bartholdt: "There is nothing before the House."

Senator Borah: "I am before the House."

Mr. Bartholdt: "I ask unanimous consent that the gentleman be permitted to proceed in order that this proceeding be made parliamentary."

Mr. Penrose "I hope consent will be given to the Senator from Idaho to continue, and I think we should give unanimous consent now and let him get his remarks into the record."

It was made plain very soon after this that even though Mr. Borah's motion had been tabled the majority intended to give the minority a roll call on demand, on any question. Penrose, Crane and others of the Taft faction repeatedly joined Borah and his colleagues in the minority in asking for a roll call and they always got it.

The test vote came in the case of the Ninth Alabama district, in which the Taft delegates were seated by a vote of 38 to 15. These 15 were Knight, of California; Dupont, of Delaware; Borah, of Idaho; Lowden, of Illinois; Burnam, of Kentucky; Wight, of Louisiana, (whose vote was cast by E. W. Thilberger); Kellogg, of Minnesota; Rosewater, of Nebraska; Flanigan, of Nevada, (whose proxy was held at that time by Lucius N. Littauer); Ward, of New York; Capers, of South Carolina; Thorson, of South Dakota; Monday, of Tennessee; Loose, of Utah, and Bieber, of the District of Columbia. Neither Rosewater nor Lowden voted yesterday with

COMMERCE COURT REVERSE

Supreme Court Upholds the Exclusive Jurisdiction of Interstate Commerce Commission in Federal Rate Laws.

Washington, June 7.—Blow after blow was given the new Commerce Court today by the Supreme Court of the United States, which upheld the exclusive jurisdiction of the Inter-State Commerce Commission over the administrative machinery of the Federal rate laws.

The principal decision was announced by Chief Justice White, in the so-called "Proctor and Gamble case". He was sustained by the entire court. In substance he held that the Commerce Court was not to substitute its judgment for the Inter-State Commerce Commission in the administration of the rate laws. The specific point ruled upon was that parties who failed to get relief before the Inter-State Commerce Commission have no right to go into the Commerce Court, and have that court pass upon the facts to ascertain if they should have been granted relief.

In his opinion Chief Justice White, however, went further. He showed that the Commerce Court was not given "new and strange" powers, but succeeded to the powers of the circuit courts in existence when the Commerce Court was created and that the Commerce Court was limited in reviewing the commission's orders to questions of law. In cases yet to be passed upon it is claimed that the Commerce Court went out of the domain of law and gave its judgment on pure questions of fact.

Chief Justice White stated the question for decision to be whether the authority of the Commerce Court was confined to enforcing and restraining, as the case might be, affirmative orders of the commission, or whether it had the power to exert its own judgment by original interpretation of the administrative features of the act to regulate commerce, and upon that assumption to treat a refusal of the commission to grant relief as an affirmative order and accordingly pass upon its correctness.

Both from the words of the act creating the Commerce Court and from the general scheme of rate regulation, the Chief Justice said it was to be seen that the Commerce Court had no such broad powers as it claimed to possess.

To adopt the view of the Commerce Court as to its jurisdiction, Chief Justice White said, would be to overthrow the system of rate regulation adopted by Congress.

Senator Poindexter today introduced a resolution to discharge the Committee on Commerce from further consideration of the bill to abolish the Commerce Court in order to bring the measure before the Senate for a vote. No action on the resolution was taken.

The Proctor and Gamble case was one in which the Inter-State Commerce Commission had denied the company's complaint against uniform demurrage rules of the railroads. The Commerce Court, while agreeing with the commission's findings, had held that it had the right to review the decision, and this the Supreme Court held was not so.

On the strength of the Proctor and Gamble case the court held that the Commerce Court was wrong in taking jurisdiction over the complaint of Cincinnati shippers about rates which the commission had put into force over the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railroad Company from Cincinnati to Chattanooga. Both cases had been a basis for criticism of the Commerce Court.

The Cincinnati-Chattanooga decision marked the end of the fight of Cincinnati shippers for lower rates to Chattanooga.

Brussels, June 7.—The strike in the Charleroi region has ended, but the situation has become worse in the Borinaga district.

COLUMBUS UNVEILING TODAY

Thousands of Knights of Columbus Gather in Washington for Dedication of the Memorial to America's Discoverer.

Washington, June 7.—Thousands of Knights of Columbus and other visitors crowded Washington tonight in advance of the dedication of the National memorial to Christopher Columbus tomorrow. Special trains from all parts of the country brought big delegations. One hundred thousand visitors, it is estimated, will be here when the ceremonies begin. Fifty-five thousand men will march in the parade following the dedication ceremonies.

A party of Knights, headed by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherity, visited Mount Vernon this afternoon and laid a wreath on the tomb of Washington. This evening a big parade of automobiles, gorgeously decorated, drove over miles of Washington's parkways.

A formal reception to the visitors was held at the National museum.

SOLVENT BANK WAS CLOSED

Testimony at Money Trust Inquiry Tended to Show How Clearing House Forced Institution To the Wall

New York, June .7—Testimony intended to show how the power of the New York clearing house committee was used to force a solvent bank to the wall during the aftermath of the panic of 1907, with the result that the "fair reputation" of its president was "blasted," was dramatically presented today before the Pujo committee of the House of Representatives which is investigating the so-called money trust.

The testimony was elicited by Samuel Untermyer, special counsel of the committee, in his effort to demonstrate that the functions of the clearing house enable it to control the destiny of New York's financial institutions and should be subject to regulation by law.

The bank around which the testimony centered was the Oriental, organized in 1853 and one of the charter members of the clearing house association, but it was testified that three other banks, the Bank of North America and the New Amsterdam National Bank, in both of which Charles W. Morse was interested, and the Mechanics and Traders, were similarly compelled through the action of the clearing house to close, although all proved to have been solvent.

Their financial decease was the result, it was testified, of a demand made by the clearing house committee three months after the panic began, that they redeem their clearing house loan certificates and in the case of the Oriental, followed a promise that the association would stand by it "to the last ditch."

Mr. Untermyer had on the stand William Sherer, manager of the Clearing House Association; James G. Candon, president of the Fourth National Bank, who recently became a member of the Clearing House Committee; R. W. Jones, president of the Oriental at the time of the panic, and Erskine Hewitt and Charles A. Beckman, director of the bank.

HIGH PRICES OF MEAT.

Violent Measures in Brooklyn to Force Cheaper Food.

New York, June 7.—Women pledged to a war on high prices of staple foods have started a campaign of violence in Brooklyn, directing their efforts against meat shops.

There were riotous scenes when the plate glass door of one shop was shattered while 500 women screamed approval. In three or four other shops militant housewives attacked customers, knocking from their hands parcels of meat and trampling upon it. Dealers were warned against continuing to offer meat for sale. A canvass of the district disclosed that eight shops had obeyed the order of the housewives, removing all meat and promising not to make any further sales until they can do so at lower prices.

The scenes of disorder were limited to two sections in Brooklyn, which are foreign quarters.

BATTLE OVER BABY CENSUS

Parents Cannot Agree Whether They Have 14 or 16 Children

Uniontown, Pa., June 7.—Henry Gillin, of Smithfield, and his wife had a dispute regarding the number of children they had. The woman stated positively that they had 14 while her husband was certain it was 16.

The argument became warm and Mrs. Gillin alleges her husband struck her on the head. Gillin was arraigned before Judge Van Swearingon on a charge of assault and battery. When the court heard the cause of the trouble he discharged Gillin.

Husband and wife went back to Smithfield. Later it was discovered that it had not been ascertained who was right.

WANTS POLICE AT CONTEST HEARINGS

Reported That Roosevelt Leaders Will Intimidate Committee.

WOULD PREVENT ROUGH HOUSE

Col. Wm. F. Stone Asks Mayor of Chicago for Police Protection at Today's Session of the National Committee

Chicago, June 7.—Colonel William F. Stone, sergeant-at-arms of the Republican National Convention, tonight appealed to Mayor Harrison for police protection at tomorrow's sessions of the National Committee, which is conducting contest hearings at the Coliseum.

Colonel Stone's action, he said, was prompted by reports that certain Roosevelt leaders had prepared to take steps to intimidate the membership of the committee in its deliberations on the contests.

Other members of the committee, including Colonel Harry S. New, of Indiana; Senator W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts; Senator Newell Sanders, of Tennessee, and others said that they had heard the reports of a planned Roosevelt demonstration at the committee room during the hearings.

"There will be no 'rough house,'" said Colonel Stone, "in the committee; neither will there be any demonstration permitted on the outside of the Coliseum. Drastic measures will be adopted if anything of the kind is attempted. I have asked the Chicago city authorities for police protection at the committee's hearings."

Colonel New said he had heard reports of possible pending trouble, but was loath to believe them.

"Such a report as this," said Colonel New, "seems to me incredible. Certainly no one is foolish enough to believe anything can be gained for a cause by the adoption of such methods. And surely no one who knows the members of the National Committee is going to believe they can be bluffed or terrorized by any mob or set of thugs that can be mustered.

"Mind you, I don't believe that anything of the sort will be attempted as surely some one in the crowd has intellect enough to head off anything of the sort if any misguided individual should attempt it. However, depend upon it that if anything of the kind is attempted the individuals behind it will live to repent of their folly.

"This is supposed to be a National convention and not a prize ring or a beer garden and the dignity and good order of its proceedings will be enforced peaceably, we hope, but if any one attempts to employ force of any kind he will find his methods will be resisted with sufficient vigor to make the outcome very different from what had been intended."

United States Senator Joseph M. Dixon, of Montana, Colonel Roosevelt's manager, declined to discuss these reports when the matter was called to his attention.

Senator Dixon said, however, that he might have some comment to make later.

Congressman William B. McKinley, directing the Taft National Bureau, specified William Flinn, of Pittsburg, as Roosevelt leader, who he had been informed was expected to start the trouble.

Mr. McKinley also stated that he had received reliable information to the effect that George W. Perkins, of New York, had been called to Chicago by certain Roosvelt members of the National Committee to head off any possible disturbance.

Flinn was expected to reach Chicago late tonight. Senator Dixon said that if he could procure a proxy in the National Committee he would give it to Flinn.

Congressman McKinley's statement regarding reported threatened trouble was as follows:

"Reliable information has been received, indicating that the sole purpose of the coming of William Flinn, of Pittsburg, to Chicago at the instance of Theodore Roosevelt is to take steps to intimidate the Republican National Committee if possible in its deliberations on the contest of delegates' seats in the National convention.

"It is understood that the plan which Mr. Flinn is expected to follow is to organize crowds of Roosevelt followers who shall make demonstrations at the Coliseum for the purpose of attempting to overawe the National Committee.

"Roosevelt members of that body today deprecated the plan and it is said appealed to George W. Perkins, of New York, one of Mr. Roosevelt's most intimate friends, to put an end to it."

Mr. Perkins had made no comment on this report up to tonight.

U. S. IS READY TO MEET EMERGENCY

Prepares to Land a Large Force in Cuba if it Is Necessary.

THE ARMY WILL TAKE A HAND

Will Take Part With Navy In Cuban Demonstration—Transports at Newport News Ready to Sail Immediately

Washington, June 7.—The army today took steps to share with the navy in the American demonstration in Cuba.

Early in the day the general staff gave a pereliminary test to the machine it has constructed when it issued orders to the quartermaster general to put in readiness for Cuban services the four big army transports at Newport News, and at the same time notified the proper military officers at the various army posts where are located the organizations which go to make up the "expeditionary force" to have men ready to entrain at a moment's notice.

Within six hours word came from Quartermaster General Aleshire that the big transports had been put in commission with full supplies and coal and augmented crews and were ready to sail the moment the troops were placed aboard.

The order for the transports to sail or for the troops to entrain was not given and it was said at the State Department that word would not be given until the marine forces already landed and now being distributed among the threatened plantations in Eastern Cuba proved insufficient to afford the necessary protection, or that conditions on the island as a whole, had assumed such a phase as to demand political intervention. At present it cannot be asserted that President Gomez's hold has so weakened as to warrant the United States in proceeding to meet its treaty obligations to intervene.

Intervention, if determined upon, must follow in a regular way, if the government of the United States decides to follow the injunction laid down by the judge advocate general of the army. Warnings have to be conveyed to the titular government of Cuba and every effort must be made to induce it to exhaust its own resources in restoring order and finally a proclamation must be made of the conditions which in the mind of the President of the United States demand intervention.

Some of those steps already have been taken. January 16th, last, Secretary Knox served notice upon the Cuban government that the President of the United States looked to it "to prevent a threatened situation which would compel the government of the United States, much against its desires to consider what measures it must take in pursuance of the obligations of its relations to Cuba." Since there have been other and frequent less formal admonitions until yesterday the following significant telegram was sent to the American legation in Havana for presentation to the Cuban government:

"Under the exigencies of the situation arising out of the failure of the Cuban authorities to take effective action for the protection of American life and property, the commandant at Guantanamo naval station has been compelled to land forces of marines. This action has been taken as a measure of protection only and not for the purpose of putting down the insurrection, which is clearly the duty of Cuba. Four large war vessels will forthwith be sent from Key West to Guantanamo to be in readiness in case the situation should unfortunately demand additional forces for the same purpose. It is hoped that these measures will at once awaken the Cuban government to the necessity of promptly and adequately meeting and discharging its duties and responsibilities and you will vigorously impress upon the President of Cuba, that a continued failure on the part of his government adequately to protect life and property will inevitably compel this government to intervene in Cuba under and in response to its treaty rights and obligations."

The issue of a proclamation by President Taft is all now necessary to meet the legal requirements preliminary to intervention. Whether and when this last step shall be taken depends upon the ability of the Cuban government to deal with the insurrection. That government will be given a fair chance.

There is still no present intention of sending more battleships into Cuban waters.

Late today a message was sent to the commander at Fort A. D. Russell, Wyoming, to have signal corps company in readiness for a possible voyage to Cuba. This company, consists of about 100 men, mounted and carries full equipment, including field wireless sets. An ambulance company was also ordered prepared.

Major General Wood, chief of staff, said that the places of embarkation for the "expeditionary force," if it were dispatched to Cuba, would begin in Savannah, Ga., and Tampa, Fla.

Two other New Orleans players, A. F. Schwartz and Whitney Bouden, won in the first flight semi-finals, Schwartz from D. S. Weaver, Memphis 2-1, and Bouden from Robert Davidson, Chattanooga, 3-2. WOLGAST ASKS 133 POUNDS.

Says All His Opponents of Future Must Make This Weight.

Chicago, June 7.—Lightweight champion, Ad Wolgast, while in Chicago last night declared that he would follow the example set by Battling Nelson and Joe Gans while they held the title and insist that hereafter all challengers for the championship would be required to make 133 pounds ringside.

"As long as I remain champion and can make 133 pounds I will insist that my opponents make that figure. When I can no longer make the weight without effort it will be time to move up to the 135-pound limit. I want to fight Packey McFarland, but I will not meet him before any club which holds out for 30 per cent. of the gross receipts. I think the fighters are entitled to at least 60 per cent."

Smith is one of the oldest pitchers in length of service in the big leagues, having played with the Pittsburg Nationals, and Chicago and Boston Americans before going to Cincinnati. He was formerly one of the star pitchers of the American League. Graham is a young pitcher, believed by Manager O'Day to need more seasoning.

Former Manager Eddie McCaffrey, of Montreal, also tried to procure Infielder Grant from Cincinnati, but was not successful.

HORINE'S GREAT LEAP

Olympic Candidate Makes Greatest Jump Ever Known

New York, June 7.—George Horine, the sensational high jumper from the Pacific Coast, who recently hung up a world's record of 6 feet 7 inches, bettered that mark in practice yesterday at Travers Island, the Summer home of the New York Athletic Club, by leaping the remarkable height of 6 feet 8 1-4 inches.

Horine's great jump will not go down on the records, though it was accurately measured with a steel tape, as it was not made in a contest. It was, nevertheless, the greatest unaided leap for height a human being ever made.

SOME PITCHING, THIS.

Eldridge and Fillery Work 22 Innings in Double Header.

Greensboro, N. C., June 7.—Pitcher Eldridge, of Greensboro, and Fillery, of Anderson, fought out a double header this afternoon, the latter winning the first bill by 7 to 3. In the second both showed wonderful form and after 13 innings the game was called with the score nothing to nothing. Each pitcher worked through 22 innings and each allowed six hits in the last engagement. Fillery struck out 13 men in the last game.

At Winston-Salem the local club negotiated the third triple play of the season.

HUMAN PINCUSHION WINS SUIT.

Fall, it is Said, Caused Atrophied Arm on Miss Geyer.

Pittsburg, June 6.—Pittsburg's human pincushion, Miss Martha A. Geyer, who sued the city for $10,000 as a result of a remarkable injury to her arm when she fell through a boardwalk, was awarded a verdict of $2,560 by a jury yesterday.

During the trial of her case counsel for Miss Geyer thrust needles and pins through her flesh with apparently no pain to her. Counsel then made preparations to burn a blister on Miss Geyer's arm, when the court interfered.

The fall, it was claimed, produced anaesthesia, or an trophied arm.

REMARKABLE RECORD.

Flesh-forming Food That Succeeds Nearly Every Time.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it assimilated, yet in Wilmington as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not assimilated, and fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, taken before or after meals, mingles with the food, so that it is assimilated by the system and makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

Anyone who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can put 50c on deposit with the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and take home a box of Samose. If the treatment does not give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh and restore strength and health, they will return the money without any questions.

CLARION CALL TO DEMOCRACY

State Chairman Eller's Address Upon Calling Democratic State Convention to Order in Raleigh—Presents a United Front.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 6.—Calling the great Democratic State convention to order here today, State Chanrman A. H. Eller, of Winston-Salem, said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: When this splendid forum of the people was dedicated, a representative of the Democratic party was invited to speak. He referred to our meetings here in the years to come as not unlike the meetings of the Greeks on the Isle of Delos for friendly intercourse and the cultivation of harmony.

Already we have met in that spirit and for the same noble purpose. Today one common voice, in a hundred counties, that rings from the mountains to the sea, will name the standard bearer of our triumphant ranks. No minor note or discord will be heard to mar this swelling peal of harmony.

Your committee is here to lay down the commission which was given into our hands. We come with no excellence of speech; we merely show you our enemies' "Wounds; poor, poor, dumb mouths, and bid them speak for us." In the battle of 1910 our losses were none, our gain ten thousand. The enemy's losses were twenty thousand, of which ten thousand were captured by us and ten thousand killed outright. One more battle, one more victory, nation-wide, and the Pie Counters full, the base of supplies is cut off and, then—the ambulance and away to the National cemetery.

What is the outlook today? We are here not to name candidates merely, but to name the officers who will give us four years of good government. Has anybody heard of a North Carolina Radical wanting to run for a State office? It has hardly been thought of, and certainly not thought fit to print.

Two years ago we heard much of Chairman Morehead's "Progressive Policies." Instead of being progressive at this time, it is not quite certain that he can succeed in "standing pat." "Where is our wandering Butler today? He came back, but he did not stay."

We face in the State a party without a leader, without a policy and without a hope except the party of spoils.

We face in the nation a discredited and divided party. There is retribution in history. Not unlike the heedless onrush of the ship Titanic, the Republican party has roved the seas of popular approval, boastful of immunity against danger or defeat. Suddenly she has felt the tremor of impact with the stern resolution of the people's will. The Captain goes down with his ship; the Ismay aboard has fled to the life-boats.

The world beholds a spectacle of a President and an ex-President of the United States playing the part of servile instruments in the hands of Providence to betray each other's part in the pitiless pillage and plunder of the American people by the minions of their favor. Their overthrow and the downfall of a political party that confesses its shame are at hand, unless the patriotism of this Republic has perished.

No Democrat is ready to despair. There still live the eternal principles of Democracy, expanding again into power and dominion over the minds and hearts of our countrymen. Deep buried beneath the embers of many a deluded hope, the principle of "Equal rights to all; special privilege to none" lives on, and again it flames up and defies oppression anew. This truth found its perfect form and expression in the wake of Jefferson's glowing pen, and forever like the star will glow in its changeless beauty.

The Democratic party was dedicated by this founder to the service of man, not to his oppression. Governments possess two, and only two, mighty engines of destruction—one is its army, the other is its taxing power. The power to tax is the power to destroy. The Feudal Lord resorted to arms; the Money Lord of today has recourse to taxation.

Against this danger Democracy built its house upon a rock. It has been, it is now, sorely tried; but there it stands, and there it will stand forever as a place of refuge from tyranny and oppression. There is, there can be no relief, until private extortion, levied in the name of public taxation, shall pass away with the other barbarous customs of the race. Then, and not till then, will our government be reconstructed by Democrats upon the Democratic principle of "Tariff for revenue, and for revenue only." This is a principle that we can sell for no price, surrender to no force, compromise in no necessity.

The American people know that tariffs have been made for their beneficiaries, made privately, made stealthily, made by tricks—and they know that this is a fraud upon the public. They have determined there shall be a revision downward, and have appointed the polls of 1912 as the time and place to turn the rest of the rascals out.

The issue is no longer clouded. It is clear cut and concrete. This vital, this paramount issue is not to be made by party platform; it is the platform. Protection or tariff for revenue, which will you have? No American citizen can dodge the question or escape his personal responsibility. His ballot is the tell-tale messenger that knows no secrets.

The Republican party will offer a candidate for President who stands for protection of the few. The Democratic party will offer a candidate who stands for protection of all. The man, who votes the Republican ticket and still calls himself a Democrat, will deceive no one but himself.

Fellow Democrats, we are not to fight this battle alone. It is not a play for position, not an economic problem merely, not a political issue entirely. It is a high moral question, and the enlightened conscience of the nation is on our side.

At last men are beginning to realize that the majority of the people are poor; that as millionaires increase paupers multiply; that in the affluence of our wealth and fullness, hunger looks up into the face of the over-rich. Think what man has suffered throughout this long night of ignorance, as he lay smarting under the blistering shame of legalized pillage which he was taught to trust as the angel of protection!

A better day is breaking. It is not the assertion of legal rights, but the confession of moral duties; not the struggle for the life of self, but the struggle for the life of others, that marks the supreme transition in human history.

The Democratic party is under bond to its historic past, not only to guarantee to all men the right to be free and stand unhindered under the arch of the sky; but to guarantee that equality of opportunity and distributive justice be made free to all—freest to the humblest.

Neither equality of opportunity nor distributive justice can ever be, while the monster monopoly across the path of progress, consuming the substance of labor, and trammelling the willing foot of trade and competition.

The trust question will not be settled by a Roosevelt despotism of good trusts and bad trusts; it will not be settled by a Taft treaty between big trusts and little trusts; it will not and it cannot be settled except upon the Democratic principle that declares monopoly an outlaw, and fair competition the life and law of trade. Monopoly stands convicted at the bar of legal and moral justice. The people demand a President who can refuse a pardon without violating any secret obligation to the malefactors of great wealth.

What does every Democrat here and everywhere most desire? To vote! We have them beat and they know it; but what is better, we also know it. With the thrill of triumph in our hearts we are going over the ramparts of privilege and protection at the next assault.

Is the Democratic party united? Are there not conservative Democrats and progressive Democrats? Yes, and there will always be. It is of transcendent importance that we conserve the fundamental principles stated by Jefferson, put in action by Jackson, impersonated by Tilden, restored by Cleveland, lifted aloft by Bryan, and glorified by the last words of Vance and Aycock. In this we are all conservatives. But privilege never surrenders, privilege dies hard. It is not possible to overcome the organized enemy of Democracy unless our party is quickened by the spirit of progress and led on by the courage of men eager to repel every invasion of the people's rights.

There is then a chord of sympathy and common interest binding together all men who believe that to Democratic principles the demands of click and class must yield.

The spirit of conservatism and the spirit of progress blend and harmonize, each sustaining the other. The majestic oak sends its roots down into the earth to seize and cling to the rocks, while its trunk wrestles with the storm and throws out its branches to meet the sun.

Democracy is a growth; it draws its life anew year by year and epoch by epoch from the hearts of the people. Until God denies to men the right to govern themselves, each in the interest of all and all in the interest of each, Democracy will live and reign as the basal law of human life, the rich revelation that crowns the freedom of man.

The Republican party was made, not born; it was founded upon policy, not principle. It renews its power not from the hearts of the millions, but from the pockets of the millionaires. Its warring elements are not "conservatives and progressives," but "stand-patters" and "insurgents." The noise we hear is the friction of the machine, aptly called the 'steam roller." It is weather-beaten and rusty; it is now on its way to Chicago in search of a market for scrap and junk, which have been on the decline since the revision "downward" by the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot-Taft-Tariff.

There remains one subject even more important to the patriotic people of our State. Good government at home is within our power, and can be preserved and handed down to our children by a united Democratic party and by nothing else. Is it worth doing? Ask Jarvis, whose great breast felt the fearful odds of dishonor and dismay, against which he battled for the honor of his State. Ask Watson, who disputed the march of impending terrors because he loved the honor of his State more than he loved his life.

The moral courage of true men such as those constitutes the chief glory of a State. We cannot, we need not recall their deeds of devotion here. We face the future and the radiance of their lives shines on before us. We are here not to review history, but to make history. Not office-holding, but State-building is the work of this convention. The substance is greater than the symbol. It is the duty of a Democratic Convention to declare a platform, not only to run on, but to stand on, not only to stand on, but to work on until it takes its place in the law and life of the land.

A Democratic Legislature has a right to expect of us a chart for its guidance—a chart not cunningly devised by the astuteness of the mind, but one that dignifies the noble faculty of speech and interprets the hopes and aspirations of the people and gives to progress its aim and its importance.

Who is there that does not rejoice in the progress of our State? North Carolina is not afraid of the progressive spirit. The few who shake and shiver at everything new, at every change and forward step, no longer constitute the State. Government, civilization, life itself are governed by the eternal law of change. Whether we will or not progress it is on the march and every step compels the next.

Even the learned profession of the law and our noble jurisprudence must subordinate precedent to principle. A rational code of criminal procedure and distributive justice suited to the needs of a more forward age must supplant the out-worn customs of a past, glorious, but forever gone.

The demand for universal education long ignored, at length heard, remains unheeded still. The Democratic party has set the school house in reach of every child in North Carolina at the cost of infinite labor and millions of treasure. This sacrifice was in the year 1911 lost upon 221,184, or 29.5 per cent. of our children who still remain strangers to the public schools. Compulsion by their mother State is a kindly duty too long delayed.

The cause of public health has but lately found a friend on a platform committee or in the halls of legislation. When will men realize that preventable disease is the common enemy of all? A grander conception of human worth calls to heroic service the civic spirit of our age. No deadlier peril fired the martial courage of western Europe to follow for centuries the drum beat of a Holy Crusade. The time is not far distant when this vital issue will find its champion in McIver or an Aycock, and will ring through the land until it compels every one to hear and applaud.

It is late, but not too late for North Carolina to awaken to the knowledge that her noble forests, like the precious air and the sparkling water, are a common heritage; and belong to the future as well as to the present. The health of her people, the beauty of her domain, the wheels of her industry, the conservation of her soil, nay, her very civilization depends upon the exercise of her sovereign power and duty to stop this waste, which unbridled cupidity commits in the name of personal freedom.

Our party in North Carolina cannot control, but it may influence and hasten the action of Congress as it approaches the problem of currency and banking reform. To the end that business may be freed from the crushing nightmare of panics, and a financial despotism of Wall Street come to its fall, let us set about this task. The business world appeals to us; because it knows that no money trust holds a mortgage on the conscience of the Democratic party.

Hardly second in importance to the election of public officers is a representative government is the selection of candidates for public office. Shall these sacred rights of the people be left to party rules, or shall they be safeguarded by the sanction of law? All agree that a uniform method is demanded. All agree that fraud, if perpetrated, must be punished. All agree that the withering blight of money is the one disease of representative government that, unless it be arrested, foretells the death of liberty. Shall we wait until the shackles of corrupt practices shall have bound us hand and foot? Or shall we, while yet free and strong and pure, prescribe and enforce by law the conduct of all men who undertake to name the public servants of the people?

North Carolina is not always first, as at Mecklenburg and at Bethel. But whenever her great heart has responded to the call of progress, she has been found last at Appomattox.

Under the awakening voice of Aycock, under the compelling power of Glenn, under the resolute purpose of Kitchin, the old North State, nay, the new North State, has stepped to the throne of Empire in the South. And all men everywhere who lift up their eyes and rejoice, recognize the ladder by which she rose—the great Democratic party of this great Democratic State.

Fellow Democrats, I have occupied time that is not my own. This hour belongs to one who has a message worthy of this great occasion. I need not, I cannot introduce our distinguished speaker to a Democratic convention. I have need of an introduction from him. Your temporary presiding officer is ex-Governor Robert B. Glenn.

CHILD NEARLY ELECTROCUTED.

Came in Contact With Live Wire in Streets of Goldsboro.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 7.—The little six-year-old daughter of O. G. Harris, of this city, narrowly escaped death from an eelctric shock here this afternoon about 2:30 o'cock. She was running along the street in front of her home and came in contact with a wire of the Bell Telephone Co., that had been blown down and lay across the city electric light wires, carrying 2,200 volts. The child was rendered unconscious and slightly burned on the arm and leg, but recovered consciousness in half an hour and at last reports was doing nicely.

A heavy rain and windstorm has been raging here all day and caused the wire of the telephone company to break and fall. No claim of negligence has been made against the company as it was one of those unavoidable accidents of a stormy day.

THE CATTLE TICK.

Opportunity for Destruction in Overflowed Region in South.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—The recent floods in the Mississippi valley have given the planters an exceptional opportunity to deal a decisive blow against the tick which transmits splenetic or Texas fever of cattle. When the waters began to rise the cattle, wherever possible, were taken to the higher lands, such as mounds and the levees. In many cases all of the cattle found in areas of many square miles were concentrated on the levees. Consequently, for many weeks the areas over which the cattle have roamed have been reduced to but a very small fraction of the area over which they would feed naturally. While the cattle have been greaty concentrated in this manner the ticks have been destroyed in the pastures. It is true that the catte tick is somewhat resistant to water, but the long duration of the flood and the force of the current in the present instance have undoubtedly practically, if not completely, exterminated the tick in all except high localities in many counties in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. Of course, the cattle that were concentrated on the levees or mounds carried many ticks to those places with them. These ticks have developed on the cattle and their progeny have reinfested the cattle. When these cattle are returned to the pastures (which are now free from ticks), they will carry many ticks with them and in this manner the pastures will quickly become reinfested. If proper steps are taken by owners of the cattle this reinfestation can be prevented to a very great extent. The Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture has been actively co-operating with the authorities of the States concerned in an effort to protect the overflowed areas from reinfestation, and if stock owners take advantage of the present opportunity, tick eradication in the localities in question may be assured at very slight expense. The first thing to be done is to destroy the ticks on the cattle before they return to the pastures. This can be done by greasing the cattle with crude oil or by the use of the well known arsenical dip. This step alone will prevent the reinfestation of the pastures. Another step should be taken to insure the continued freedom of the pastures from ticks. If the cattle now returned to the pastures are allowed to visit the places where they have been concentrated on the levees or mounds they will naturally become infested with the progeny of ticks hatched from eggs deposited by individuals that were attached when the cattle were taken to the higher places. It is therefore necessary for some time to prevent the cattle from grazing on the areas where they have been concentrated. Experiments performed by the Bureau of Entomology indicate that seed ticks on the areas where the cattle have been will die of starvation within 120 days after the cattle have been removed. Consequently, such areas should be kept under fence or the cattle otherwise prevented from visiting them for four months after the cattle leave. At the end of this period the levees will be entirely free of ticks and the cattle may be allowed to return to them without danger.

It is understood that there may be practical difficulties in applying this advice in some localities, but wherever it can be followed it will enable the planters to reduce the infestation by ticks on their places to a very small amount. The trouble and expense necessary is inconsiderable. On account of the great gain to be derived by taking advantage of the very exceptional conditions that have prevailed, it is urged that planters make a special effort to combat the tick in the manner described. As has been explained, the two steps to be taken are, first, the destruction of the ticks on the cattle when they leave the levees, and second, the prevention of reinfestation of the cattle and the starvation of the ticks by fencing the areas where they have been concentrated.

BANDS FOR REBELS

Million Dollars Authorized By Legislature of Chihuahua

Chihuahua, Mexico, June 7.—Bonds in the sum of one million dollars and for any additional amount that may be found necessary for the successful prosecution of the revolution against the Mexican government were authorized today by the Legislature of the State of Chihuahua. Two agents have left here for New York City to negotiate the sales of the bonds, which are guaranteed not only by the State of Chihuahua, but by Gen. Paceual Orozco, as chief of the Liberals.

Just where the bonds are to be sold was not made known at headquarters, but it was said that American money would not be sought. It was said that agents of foreign banking houses in the United States, persumably a Canadian firm, had agreed to take the first block of bond issues, stipulating only that the bonds be guaranteed by the State of Chihuahua as well as by Gen. Orozco.

Whatever the outcome of the present revolution is it is believed that the State of Chihuahua would never repudiate debts contracted through its recognized Legislature, and as, at the close of a revolution, a war budget is expected to meet all claims, the rebel financial committee believes it can persuade the bank that no risk is involved.

Juarez, June 7.—Rebels under Capt. Escobosa claim to have routed the Federals near Casas Grandes in a skirmish late yesterday. Col. Pascual Orozco received a message today from the Escabosa declaring his men had killed several Federals and driven the remainder from the Mexican Northwestern Railroad in the vicinity of Casas Grandes.

ENTOMBED IN WELL.

Workman Loses Life Near Wilson, N. C. on Wednesday.

Wilson, N. C., June 6.—Wednesday morning on the plantation of Mr. W. D. Carter, eight miles frof Wilson, Ab Joyner met a most horrible death. He was engaged in cleaning out a well, and placing a large tile in the bottom, when, without warning, the well caved in, burying the unfortunate man beneath tons of earth—crushing his skull against the tiling and breaking every bone in his body. Neighbors gathered and worked heroically to save the entombed man, but when he was taken out life was extinct.

ELON COLLEGE FINALS.

Aftermath of Closing Exercises at Well Known Institution.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, N. C., June 7.—Elon's 22nd annual commencement closed last night or rather this morning in the wee small hours with the conclusion of the brilliant five course Alumni banquet in the spacious college dining hall in the annex of the West Dormitory. The toastmaster of the occasion was Mr. Deroy Ransom Fonville, of the Charlotte bar, who had at an earlier hour delivered a masterful oration on the great problems of American life from the theme "Civic War." Toasts were responded to by Dr. W. C. Wicker, former President Dr. E. L. Moffitt, Rev. I. W. Johnson, Prof. G. C. Davidson, Prof. S. G Rollings, Prof. J. J. Ingle, Rev. S. C. Harrell, J. Adolph Long, Mrs. J. O. Atkinson, Rev. J. O. Cox, and the president of the college.

The medalists of this year were as follows: Long scholarship to John Lee Johnson, Cardenas, N. C.; Wellons General Scholarship, Miss Eva Christman, Burlington, N. C.; Stanford Orator's, James Allen Bickey, Haw River, N. C.; Moffitt's Essayist's, Miss Lois Baird Davidson, Gibsonville, N. C.; The Morrow Thesis, Elmer Levy Daughtry, Franklin, Va.; the Alumni Scholarship was awarded to Miss Myrtie Lawrence, Seagrove, N. C.

The college conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. N. G. Newman, Holland, Va., president of the Eastern Virginia Christian Conference; President E. A. Watkins, of Palmer College, LeGrande, Ia.; and Rev. George C. Enders, Defiance, Ohio, dean of Defiance College.

The greatest event of commencement, however, was the announcement by the corporation's secretary that the board of trustees had decided to fit up the gymnasium room of the West Dormitory for the young ladies and to erect a modern gymnasium in addition, the equal of any in the State for the young men and that these improvements would be ready for the next Fall term, if possible. The building committee for these improvements is the president, Dr. W. W. Staley, and Kemp B. Johnson. Plans from architects will be received and the contract let as soon as possible. This addition to Elon's equipment will place it on a par with that of any college in the South. The beauty and healthfulness of the location, the convenience and commodiousness of the plant, and the erection of these improvements render the college community all to be desired.

SEABOARD AND SOUTH.

Warfield Talks Further of His Acquisition of the Road.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, June 7.—The first large and concrete undertaking in the making of the new South has just been consummated in the acquisition of the Seaboard Air Line, the most important industry of the South Atlantic States, by S. Davies Warfield, of Baltimore, and a syndicate of Southern business men and New York bankers, which was announced yesterday. The transfer of the majority stock of the property has been made and now Southern men, or men possessed of a keen desire to develop the southern third of the country, have come into control of the property. When the new board of directors is chosen this Fall men of wealth to represent each of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, will find places on it.

The purchase of this railroad was part of a larger idea of Mr. Warfield and progressive Southerners who organized early this year the Southern Settlement & Development Association at Baltimore.

"For years we have been talking of the development of the new South." said Mr. Warfield today, "and I thought the time had come to do something. The passing of resolutions was all well enough in its way, but we needed an organization to do practical work. So we arranged for a bureau, with headquarters in Batimore, to advertise the land and the opportunities in the Southern States. We want a clearing house of Southern industry.

"Of course, it must not be understood that the bureau will be an adjunct of the Seaboard. It will be for the development of the whole South, and the managers of other roads are as deeply interested as are we. We shall particularly present to farmers and artisans of the Western and Northern States our advantages and try to get them to come. Not only will settlement of the vast unimproved tracts of Southern States be encouraged, but inducements will be held out to manufacturers to locate among us.

"Did you ever stop to taink that some land in Florida, which a few years ago could not be sold is now worth $20,000 an acre, a result of the phosphate development there? A farmer cannot buy land in the West for less than $20 an acre; there are many miles of land just as good in the South for a fourth of that price. The last time I was in Florida I saw families from the West and North actually living in tents awaiting the time when they might move to a farm.

"Let me say here that there has been much published recently about frauds on unsuspecting investors and settlers and a lot of it was true, but the railway managers have now awakened to the operations of the schemers responsible and will put a stop to them."

DEFENSE'S COUNSEL WEPT.

W. A. Smith Denounces Press in Myrtle Hawkins Case.

Hendersonville, N. C., June 7.—W. A. Smith, counsel for the defendants on trial charged with the murder of Myrtle Hawkins, wept during his argument here today, and stated that "not for righteousness" sake, but to satisfy the clamor of the public for "innocent blood", his clients had been placed on trial. He strongly denounced the press for the publicity given to the case, the parents of the dead girl for the reward offered and the State for supplementing that reward and the officers and the counsel for the State for their prosecution. Attorney J. F. Spainhour spoke for the State, generally deriding the attitude of Mr. Smith. Four attorneys remain to be heard before the case goes to the jury.

STRIKE IN BOSTON.

Employes of Elevated Railroad Go Out. Arrests for Violence.

Boston, June 7.—Violence marked the begining of a strike of several thousand of the employes of the Boston elevated railway early today.

Those who refused to work demand recognition by the company of a recently formed union. The company's reply is that they have treated the men unusually well for many years and refuse to deal with them other than as individuals.

The street railway service and the elevated railway were being operated on about half time. Five arrests have been made for assaults on motormen.

Although the strike had been threatened for a week or more it came shortly after 4 A. M., with a suddenness and a clash that surprised not only the company officials, but the police of Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Somerville, Everett, Chelsea, Medford and Malden.

The men had been discussing the matter nearly all night at a mass meeting, and as daylight was breaking it was decided to take a vote. As soon as it was seen that those in favor of going out were in the majority the gathering of nearly 2,000 men began cheering and a rush was made for the first early morning cars.

The first one was met near the hall. The car was stopped, windows smashed and the motorman and conductor badly beaten. A number of passengers were rushed out of the car, although none was injured.

As the clash was proceeding a mail car came into sight, and, recognizing the government, those who had stopped the first car suddenly ceased activities and permitted both cars to resume their way.

A few minutes later word of the strike had reached the vicinity of the north station and there were two other cars stopped, windows smashed, some of the gearing disabled and several passengers were slightly injured by flying glass. A crowd coming from the direction of strike headquarters encircled several cars on Adams square about 6 o'clock and more violence ensued.

A dozen men rushed down in the Cambridge subway as the first car was about to start and tried to persuade the train hands to join them. They were unsuccessful. About the same time four of the new semi-convertible viaduct cars were badly smashed.

The outbreak in Charlestown was almost as severe while similar occurrences took place in Everett and Chelsea.

It was announced during the forenoon that the actual vote in favor of a strike was 1,389 to 8.

The strike committee claims that up to the time of calling the strike today 3,200 men had signed union papers and had paid the initiation fee. At the same time the company issued a statement that 3,500 employes still were loyal to the company.

Four hours after the strike began, cars were running on nearly all ines, but with about half the usual frequency.

Rioting again broke out this evening in connection with the strike of employes of the Boston Elevated Street Railway Company, which began this morning. Disturbances occurred in Cambridge and South Boston. In one outbreak in Cambridge three policemen were badly beaten and a revolver shot was fired at the conductor of a stalled car. Several arrests were made.

Growing with each hour, the strike had spread tonight so that service on many lines in the metropolitan district was only occasional. Estimates of the number of men on strike varied widely. Union leaders claimed 3,500 members were out, with additional members joining the strike hourly. Boston Elevated Company officials set the number of strikers at "about 1,000". The total number of men of all classes regularly employed by the Boston Elevated Railway Company is 8,000, of whom 5,000 are uniformed employes.

All the men on strike are members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, the local branch of which has been recently organized. It was the refusal of President Bancroft of the company to treat with employes on their demands as members of this organization that precipitated the strike.

The day's disorders resulted in the arrest of nearly 30 men charged with intimidation and assault mostly. Three men received sentences of three months each in the house of correction, while others received lesser sentences.

Washington, June 7.—With the declaration that the Democratic cotton tariff revision bill would be vetoed if it ever reached the White House, as its identical predecessor had been last year, the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee today filed their minority report on the measure. The bill was declared to be both "crude and haphazard" and the Republicans offered to present a measure that would be a revision in accordance with the findings of the Tariff Board.

He has been elected vice president of the Florida National Bank, Jacksonville, Fla., and will enter upon his duties there July 15th. Mr. Wilson was formery bank examiner of South Carolina. Saturday, June 8, 1912.

Taft continues to act like he is confident that he can slip up on that hat and put it out of the ring.

Says the Charleston Post: "Roosevelt does not think he has had a fair show in all the States." Well, the next time he goes out with his show let him give a more creditable performance than he has in his third-term specialty.

The political contests of the times emphasize the signal advantage of character and virtue over crookedness and debauchery. The country is shocked at the revelation that lying, hypocrisy and slander cut entirely too big a figure in high circles.

It is undemocratic to oppose the nomination of candidates by the people instead of by a handful of the people in a precinct meeting or a convention. When we want to get away from the people and pick their nominees for them it shows that we have not imbibed the true spirit of Democracy. In that case we are oligarchs instead of Democrats.

President Taft suggested publicity for the proceedings of the National Republican Committee in hearing the contests as to delegates to the National Convention. Probably he wanted the public to know some of the methods by which his "distinguished predecessor" hopes to eucre him out of delegates who have been pledged for the renomination of Taft.

If we had enough offices to go around, Democrats who want them would not abuse others in order to win the prize. Remove "office" from the political equation and away would go the motive for one officeseeker to attack another and attempt to read him out of the party. After a politician reads another one out of the party he does the absurd thing of taking to the stump to get others to come into the party.

North Carolina is good enough to sit at the head of the peanut table. The Census Bureau reports that in 1909, the year which the census statistics were taken, North Carolina's peanut production was 5,981,000 bushels, giving her the pre-eminence of the United States in peanut production. Virginia came next with 4,284,000 bushels. Boston can boast of the bean if she wishes, but we will take the peanut as the proper diet for quality folks.

The Charleston Chamber of Commerce is to have a midsummer campaign for the purpose of showing that it can keep on working for Charleston while all other kind of work is slack. When it is dull that is the time to keep it from being dull. Charleston has caught on to the idea of the live advertiser who advertises all the more during the dull season in order to keep business from getting dull. The proper thing to do is not to supinely lie down and just let it get dull.

The State Democratic Convention at Raleigh on Thursday had the good sense to endorse a Democratic Governor and both Democratic Senators and all the State's Democratic Representatives. The convention did not negatively repudiate the party and those into whose hands its principles are entrusted. The convention gives us to understand that all told its servants have done well enough to receive a pat on the shoulder. So they have, when we consider the maximum of achievement against any possible minimum of failure. With the party-putting the label of endorsement on those who carry its standard, it is hoped nobody will moneky with the label.

THE OVERTHROW OF PRIVILEGE.

The biggest issue in this campaign is the overthrow of privilege as it is entrenched in Republicanism. The public is being befogged with diatribes about "the rule of the people," but the average man would like to hear in that connection a proposition to paralyze the hand that is taking tribute out of his pocket for the bloated beneficiaries of the Republican tariff.

Even at best, it will take years for the masses to get relief from the imposition inflicted on them by the Republican policy which taxes them to enrich the beneficiaries of the tariff. The widespread unrest in this country is due to the increasingly difficult task of making an ordinary living, yet President Taft is the grim and fortuitous apologist of the protective policy which keeps the pockets of the people drained in the interest of Big Business. Moreover, Theodore Roosevelt, another Republican candidate busily peddles nostrums and has totally ignored the one issue to which the people are looking for easement of the grinding expense of supporting themselves and their families.

For the Presidential nomination, the Republican party has two candidates in the field, both of them wedded to different methods to save the Republican theory that you can make the people prosperous by taxing them till they cannot make both ends meet. Taft is the bold advocate of that infamous system of tremendous imposition, while the third term Rosevelt sidesteps in a furious endeavor to deceive the masses into believing that there are bigger issues to be emphasized at this time. Taft's candidacy is a menace to the interests of the masses because he proposes to perpetuate a discriminating taxing system that burdens them and enables monopolies to take tribute from their earnings. Roosevelt's candidacy is like a storm which passes overhead, shaking the earth with its thunder and making the skies lurid with lightning, but from which no refreshing rain falls upon the famishing fields. He is all noise and bosh, not to say bushwa!

The National Republican convention will name either Taft or Roosevelt for President when it meets next Tuesday week, but for the masses there is notning for them in either Taft or Roosevelt. Therefore, they expect the Baltimore convention to nominate a Democrat who can beat either one of these moguls of privilege and political hypocrisy. If the delegates to the National Democratic Convention will ignore the ambitions of men and name a candidate who is strong in the doubtful States and who appeals to the independent and patriotic vote of the country, they will sweep the country. To play the game of politics at Baltimore and beat a strong candidate with a weak one will be fatal to the interests of the people who are ready to enlist against privilege and special interests.

To nominate the wrong man at this crisis would be only to disgust the people and arouse their disappointment and opposition. To make the one who challenges the enthusiasm and confidence of the people will mean a Democratic President and the restoration of the government into the keeping of the people. With either Taft or Roosevelt as President, it will remain a cinch for the plutocratic element who will surely and cheerfully furnish to either of them the money to carry the election against the people.

The masses do not care particularly whether the Republicans nominate Taft or Roosevelt. However, they do care about the choice of the Democracy, for he is their only hope to overthrow Republicanism with its fat fryers and tariff grafters. They do care about the nomination of a people's man in the shade and who can clip man in the shade and who cai clip the wings of the stormy petrel who rides like mad on the howling gale.

SIMPLY YIELDING TO PUBLIC SENTIMENT

Overpowering public sentiment has compelled the Republican party to favor publicity as to political matters. The National Republican committee, now in session at Chicago, decided on Thursday to hold open meetings and permit the freeest possible publicity for its proceedings.

No sooner had the committee thus acknowledged the virtue of publicity than Colonel Roosevelt claimed that it was due to his agitation. He never fails to make big claims in the face of his record to the contrary. For a quarter of a century the Democrats have favored publicity as to campaign subscriptions and exepnditures. They have urged it in Congress, and bills have been introduced to provide publicity before as well after elections, but Roosevelt while President failed to help the Democrats pass and get through Congress a bill that would give real publicity to the amount of money spent for political purposes and the sources from which the slush funds came. While Roosevelt was President he ridiculed the idea of publicity previous to elections, and he would fall dead now, if, the day before the Chicago convention meets, he would have to publish a list of the contributors to his anti-Taft campaign and the purposes for which it was spent.

President Taft's manager some time ago made a noise like some of Roosevelt's campaign money was spent to send emisaries to the South to seduce Taft's Southern delegates to desert him for the Rough Rider. Roosevelt's claim to reform principles, compared with his reactionary attitude when the rub comes, is in keeping with his monumental inconsistency and charlatanry. However, he seems able to fool lots of people into the belief that he preached reform a thousand years before William Jennings Bryan was born. He approves what Bryan originated and lays claim to an originality that dates from the days of Noah.

In adopting its belated idea of publicity, the Republican party and its leaders are simply yielding to a public sentiment that can no longer be safely resisted.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR

Nothing that the State Democratic convention did at Raleigh on Thursday will give such universal satisfaction as the unanimous nomination of the Hon. Locke Craig, for Governor. The honor fell to Buncombe's distinguished son by acclamation, his choice in that way making the second gubernatorial nominee to be so honored. The first was the lamented and honored Charles B. Aycock, whose memory and great public service will be perpetuated by a monument to be erected by the people of his State.

The manner in which the gubernatorial nomination came to Mr. Craig was "like getting money from home." It was a graceful thing for the North Carolina Democracy to do and we take numerous stiches of pride in our shoulder on account of belonging to a party which is so high purposed as to have been unanimous in recognizing that it owed both obligation and honor to Locke Craig. His nomination came in response to a singleness and spontaneousness of party sentiment that was inspired by poetic justice to do the right thing by the right man.

Locke Craig is worthy of the high honor handed to him on a silver platter. Long, earnest and valuable party service earned it for him. His unceasing fidelity and self-sacrifice for years in behalf of the party and the best interests of the people of North Carolina entitled him to this distinguished recognition by an appreciative party and grateful people.

The gubernatorial mantle will fall upon the shoulders of Craig because he has the character and ability to sit in the high place. In naming him for their Governor the North Carolina Democracy has illustrated its sense of poetic justice, but it was Craig who proved noble and grand in former defeats and thus furnished the type of manhood that so challenged our admiration that with common consent we bring a chaplet and place it on his brow.

Locke Craig has demonstrated the fact that a loyal Democrat can be a good loser, and that all things come to a loser who can be patient and good and great till his time comes.

A dispatch says: "A woman sat on a jury for the first time in this city." No doubt she found out that it wasn't any more trouble than if she had sat on the old man.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The man who goes into the Chicago convention with the most votes from other sections is the man who is likely to receive the support of the Southern delegation.—Durham Herald.

As June 18 draws near, Republican politicians are faced with the trying necessity of deciding for themselves whether they are Republicans or Roosevelt men. What puzzles them is how they can look like both in certain contingencies.—New York World.

The Springfield Republican regards it as an "unfortunate feature" of the hotel waiters' strike in New York that "negroes from the South are being brought in as strike breakers." Why is it "unfortunate"? Do not negroes make good waiters when well trained? And with what element will they come in competition in New York? Is it a native white element, or one that for the most part speaks a foreign language when off duty?—Savannah News.

A poll of the Senate shows that a large proportion of its members are opposed to the bill which went through almost without objection in the House, providing for the coining of half-cent pieces. When it comes to finance, either high or low, the Senators are stand-patters. The defeat of the bill is not likely to cause a popular uprising, but the proposed coin seemed to have advantages which might at least have been given a trial.—Philadelphia Record.

Woodrow Wilson appears to be the favorite in North Carolina, and the most his opponents hope to do is to prevent formal instruction of the delegates which the State Convention at Raleigh will elect today. In North Carolina, as in Georgia, Underwood is the only candidate in the field against Wilson, an supporters of Underwood, Harmon and Clark have combined in the effort to prevent instructions. Seven of the ten Congressional districts will elect delegates today, so that the complexion of the entire delegation of 24 will be decided by the action of the State convention. Locke Craig, of Asheville, will be nominated for Governor without opposition. Four years ago, at Charlotte, in the most protracted and exciting convention the State ever saw, Craig and William W. Kitchin locked horns and for days and nights fought over the nomination for Governor. Governor Kitchin ,the winner of that hard-fought contest, is now a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Simmons, while Craig wins the nomination for Governor without a ripple of contention. The death of former Governor Aycock leaves Governor Kitchin and

"SAID IN HIS WRATH."

The Morning Star, City.

Gentlemen:—I notice an artical in your paper this morning that says every business man on Princess st. signed the petition which is being circulated, except one and that he said that already too many people pass his place of business every day.

I wish to say that this statement is a LIE as I made no such statement and who ever give you such information are liars also

My reason for not signing such petition was because I do not believe That the Tide Water Power Co. should be allowed to use the streets as a terminal or Depot and did not care to place myself on record as favoring such

Very truly yours

NAVY COMMENCEMENT

President Taft Presents Diplomas to Future Officers

Annapolis, Md., June 7.—After a brief address and the presentation of diplomas to the members of the graduating class by President Taft this afternoon the festivities of "June Week" were brought to a close at the Naval Academy tonight with the farewell ball given by the members of next year's graduating class to those who today officially severed their connection with the institution.

An address on behalf of the visitors was made by Senator Swanson, of Virginia. President Taft in his address reminded the new naval officers of the record of the American navy and urged them to live up to its traditions.

Senator Swanson told the young officers that their most important asset throughout their lives would be "courage with a big 'C.'" While in Annapolis President Taft visited Governor Goldsborough.

WOULD TAX PISTOL "TOTERS".

Congressman Sisson Believes It a Curb to Warlike Americans.

Washington, June 7.—Representative Thomas Upton Sisson, of Mississippi, has proposed a new law to curb the warlike spirit of Americans and has introduced a revenue measure which would impose a heavy tax on pistol "toters" and venders of deadly weapons.

The bill stipulates that from July 1, 1913, every such weapon stored in any warehouse, wholesale or retail establishment in the United States must bear a revenue stamp which will cost $2.50 and 25 per cent. ad valorem in addition.

WATSON BOUND OVER.

Former Populist Leader Has Preliminary Hearing at Augusta, Ga.

Augusta, Ga., June 7.—Thos. E. Watson, the former Populist leader and Presidential candidate, was bound over to the grand jury today under $500 bond after a hearing before United States Commissioner Godwin, one the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. The matter objected to was contained in an article in Watson's magazine, attacking the Roman Catholic Church. Watson was arrested at his home at Thomson last week.

At the hearing today District Attorney Akerman represented the government, while Watson presented his own case. In his argument, Mr. Watson claimed the warrant on which he was arrested should have been issued against the publishing company which published his magazine, if issued at all. To Mr. Watson's claim that the objectionable matter published has been copied from a copyrighted book, the district attorney answered that any person could get a copyright for anything by establishing the fact that he is its author.

The visitors late today left for Hampton Roads.

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blesing.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

San Antonio, Texas.—"To all women who desire to have children in their homes and to be well and happy I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a displacement and other female weakness. Lydia E. Laredo St., San Antonio, Texas.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. THE CAPE FEAR ACADEMY

Closing Exercises Yesterday Morning Of the 39th Session of This Well Known Institution—Certificates Awarded

The closing exercises of the 39th session of the Cape Fear Academy, one of the best known institutions for boys in this section of the State, were held yesterday morning. The programme, while brief, was of an interesting nature. Prof. Washington Catlett, the beloved principal, has been at the head of the institution for 35 years and many of the leading business men of Wilmington and Eastern North Carolina received their early training under him.

Prof. Catlett made a most interesting address to the pupils yesterday morning, giving a history of the institution from the time of its foundation in 1868. The school was started by General Colston, of the Confederate Army who, after a few years left to accept a position in the army of the Khedive of Egypt. The institution was continued by Prof. Alfriend for a short time. It was reopened by Major Burgess in 1877. The present principal, Prof. Catlett, took charge of the school in 1879, after having served two years as assistant. From that time until now the school has been under the direction of Prof. Catlett, who is widely known as an educator and greatly beloved in this section of North Carolina. The military feature, for practical reasons, was abandoned in 1881. The handsome silk flag presented to the school by the New Hanover County Fair Association is still preserved as a charter, as it were, of its foundation.

Under General Colston many of the leading business and professional men of the city received their instruction or preparation for college. Even in those troublous days when the means of securing an education was limited, this school held a high rank. Under the present principal many of the young "bone and sinew" of the professional and business life of the present Wilmington received preparation for college or life's work. Such prominent men as C. W. Tillett, Esq., of Charlotte, and Alfred M. Scales, Esq., of Greensboro, assisted during principalship of Prof. Catlett.

Following the remarks of Prof. Catlett, who was heard with keenest interest by the boys, certificates of distinction were awarded the pupils whose names are given below. Their names stand in order of excellence.

First grade—R. C. DeRosset, Jr., F. K. McKoy, Thos. Stone, H. H. Watters, Julian W. Morton, C. S. Grainger, Jr., C. O. Butler.

Second grade—Julius T. Herbst, S. W. Sanders, Jr., C. H. Foard.

Third grade—M. Rudolph Sanders, W. P. Sanders, J. H. Hintze.

The following are entitled to special mention for deportment, attendance and punctuality: Julian W. Morton received no demerits during the year: Julius Herbst received only one demerit. J. W. Morton, T. H. Stone, S. W. Sanders, Jr., W. P. Sanders, R. C. DeRosset, Jr., and H. H. Watters have never been late. W. P. Sanders has never been absent and C. O. Butler has been absent only one day. These qualities are so essential to success in business that the principal wishes to emphasize their importance. There were several others who were never absent or late except on account of sickness or uncontrollable circumstances.

HEAVY RAINFALLS

Nearly Three Inches at Wilmington Up to Last Night—Record

It rained and it rained!

It was one of the most disagreeable rains of the year in Wilmington yesterday.

Old Jupiter Pluvius opened up the flood gates about daylight yesterday morning and from that good hour until an early hour last night, it still rained and rained—and then some. According to the register of the Weather Bureau up to 8 o'clock last night, the precipitation was 2.98, one of the heaviest records of the year, bringing the precipitation for the month up to 3.40 inches. With the rain came a drop in the temperature and raincoats and light overcoats were not unpleasant. The minimum temperature reading for the day was 59 degrees with a maximum of only 70 degrees. Streets were washed to some extent, but no very great damage was done.

The Cotton Region Bulletin issued at 8 o'clock yesterday morning showed that rains have fallen in all districts except the Little Rock and Oklahoma sections. There were numerous heavy showers in the eastern portions of the cotton belt. In the Wilmington district of the reporting service Florence, S. C., reported 1.90 up to 8 o'clock yesterday morning; Goldsboro 1.56 with rain still falling and Lumberton 1.52 with cloudy weather conditions still prevailing.

In the Charleston, S. C., district some heavy falls were Charleston 2.70; Kingstree 1.40; St. Matthews 1.80.

TO CAROLINA BEACH

Three Trips of Steamer Wilmington Tomorrow—Big Crowds

With the clearing weather which is sure to come before tomorrow morning, it is expected that the steamer Wilmington will handle one of the largest crowds of the season to Carolina Beach and Southport. The trip for Southport will be at 9 A. M. from Wilmington, stopping at the beach, of course, while there will be two other trips during the afternoon and evening. Fare to the beach is only 25 cents the round trip, while to Southport the special rate of 50 cents for the round trip is offered. At her new dock at foot of Princess street, the steamer Wilmington is now much more accessible to the car junction one block up and this promises to be quite an attractive change during the Summer months.

Move on Now!

says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering follows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulldoze the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at R. R. Bellamy.

BISHOP'S ANNUAL RETREAT

Episcopal Clergy of East Carolina Diocese to be Guests at Wrightsville Beach During Latter Part of the Month.

One of the most notable assemblages at Wrightsville Beach this season will be the "Bishop's Annual Retreat" which will last for a week or ten days and during which the Episcopal clergy of the East Carolina Diocese will become the guests of Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, the Bishop, for a season of recreation and study that is always most pleasant and profitable.

The dates for the Retreat this year include the week beginning June 24th, and half a hundred or more of the clergy of the diocese are expected to be in daily attendance. This is the fifth year of the Rerteat, the one last year at Wrightsville having been especially pleasant for all concerned. The ministers come to the beach and with the Bishop engage in a discussion of the various phases of church work, this being always helpful and inspiring.

The Mission Herald, the organ of the diocese, in its issue of this week states that a fine literary programme has been provided at the suggestion of a committee of the clergy last Summer and that it is hoped this feature will give even added interest to the sessions. Books for review and discussion at the Rerteat are announced as follows:

1. The Philosophy of the Christian Religion—Dr. Fairbairn.
Written Digests—Dr. W. H. Milton, Rev. C. N. Tyndell.
Discussion—Rev. C. F. Smith, Rev. Morrison Bethea.

2. Jesus Christ and the Social Question—by Dr. Peabody.
Written Digests—Rev. T. P. Noe, Rev. J. H. Dickinson.
Discussion—Rev. J. H. Griffith, Rev. J. W. Mulford, Rev. N. C. Duncan.

3. English Literature's Account With Religion—Dr. E. M. Chapman.
Written Digests—Rev. B. F. Huske, Rev. W. E. Cox.
Discussion—Rev. F. N. Skinner, Rev. Dallas Tucker, Rev. C. D. Malone.

4. Lectures on Medieval History—Dean Trench.
Written Digests—Rev. L. W. Blackwelder, Rev. R. B. Drane, D. D.
Discussion—Rev. B. S. Lassiter, Rev. W. R. Noe, Rev. Edward Wootten

It is expected that all the white clergy of the Diocese will be present. Besides the formal programme as given, many helpful discussions of live issues will increase the value of the sessions.

MR. J. T. KING APPOINTED

Popular Car Accountant of Coast Line Promoted to New Position

Mr. J. T. King, formerly car accountant of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, has been appointed to the office of assistant superintendent of transportation, which was created June 1st. Mr. S. A. Stockard, who for several years has been chief clerk in the car accounting department, has been appointed acting car accountant to fill the vacancy made by Mr. King's promotion.

The new office filled by Mr. King is an important one. Mr. E. Borden, the superintendent of transportation, has heretofore been able to look after the work in the department with the assistance of his staff, but the business is constantly increasing and the need of an assistant superintendent of transportation has been felt for some time. The selection of Mr. King for this position is an apt one, he being thoroughly familiar with the details of the work. He has been in the service of the A. C. L. for a long period of years and has been steadily promoted, having first begun work as a clerk on a small salary. He numbers his friends here by the hundreds and all are congratulating him upon his well-deserved appointment to the important position he now occupies. Mr. King is a director of the American National Bank.

THE NAVASSA BRIDGE.

Chief of Engineers Authorizes Closing of Draw on Monday.

Maj. H. W. Stickle, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, has been authorized by the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, at Washington, to close the draw of the Navassa bridge, of the Wilmington Railway Bridge Co., across the Cape Fear river, on June 10th, 1912, from 6 A. M. to midnight.

This authorization is to give the bridge contractors an opportunity of putting in the finishing touches on the splendid automatic draw that is being installed there now by the railroads. The work has been in progress for some time and trains have been operated over the bridge with extreme caution for some weeks. The closing of the draw will only hinder vessels in passing to and fro and it is presumed that as the draw will be closed the trains will continue to be operated over the structure while the building of the bridge is in progress.

Shortage of Crates

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "Mr. A. S. Huske, the seedsman, tells us that in this section there is a great dearth of crates for the shipping of fruit and vegetables. He is receiving letters every day, pleading for crates. One letter from Mt. Olive states that there is not a crate or barrel in the place. It looks as if here is presented a fine opportunity for the enlargement of crate plants already established, or the establishment of new ones. Why cannot Fayetteville do something in that line, either by enlarging or starting more factories?"

GO FOR NEW STEAMER

Handsome New Craft for Cape Fear Built for Capt. J. W. Harper

Capt. E. H. Adkins and Engineer John Risley will leave this afternoon on the Clyde Line steamer for New York to bring to the home port Capt. John W. Harper's new steel hull passenger steamer Ella, named by Capt. Harper in honor of Mrs. Harper and quite a splendid compliment to her. Capt. Adkins and Engineer Risley hope to arrive back in Wilmington with the steamer in about ten days in the midst of the season for Capt. Harper's Summer excursion travel.

Capt. Harper regretted that he could not go North to accompany the steamer but she will come inland as far as Beaufort, where he will join her and test her sea-going qualities on the way to Wilmington. The new steamer was built at City Island, near New York, and as she is a brand new boat, she will come "home" in the rough, all the finishing, etc., being done here. The new steamer is somewhat smaller than the Wilmington but has nearly as much power and will be a valuable acquisition to the harbor fleet. She comes to take the place of the Madeleine, lost some time ago on her way around to Newbern for overhauling, no facilities having been provided here at that time for doing the work. While the new steamer will be commodious and fast, she will not be permitted to vie with her big sister, "The Wilmington," for time records. The coming of the new steamer is awaited with much pleasurable interest by hundreds of friends of the popular line of steamers all over the State.

CHAIRMAN TO BE ELECTED.

Rumor That There Will be Contest Over the Position.

Considerable interest is being manifested in local political circles over the question of who will be the next chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, and there is a persistent rumor current that there will be a warm contest over the office between Mr. George Harriss, the present chairman, and Recorder John J. Furlong.

A called meeting of the executive committee will be held some time next week, probably Wednesday, for the purpose of electing a chairman for the ensuing two years. Mr. Harriss became chairman several months ago, upon the resignation of Marsden Bellamy, Esq., who withdrew from the office during his campaign for the nomination for State Senator from this district, which he received at the primary, defeating Mr. W. B. Cooper.

Many who have heard the rumor of the contest between Mr. Harriss and Recorder Furlong do not give credence to it, declaring that the two men are too closely allied politically. However, others who are in touch with the workings of the political machinery are equally positive that the fight will develop. They declare that both men have a strong following and that the fight will be an interesting one.

GARDEN HOSE THIEF

Tolston Bailey, Colored, Held by Police on Charge of Larceny

Tolston Bailey, colored, who recently completed a sentence on the county roads for the larceny of a piece of garden hose, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Patrolman L. M. Smith for the suspected theft of another piece of garden hose. He is being held while the State is endeavoring to collect the evidence against him.

The negro seems to be afflicted with a kleptomania for garden hose, hose from pumps, etc. It is said at the police station that he has served several sentences on such charges. When Officer Smith saw him Thursday afternoon the negro was carrying a piece of garden hose. The officer went up to him and asked him where he got it, and the negro dropped the hose and fled. He was subsequently arrested.

The piece of hose is held at the police station. It is almost new, wire-wrapped and about 20 feet in length.

WILL ADJOURN TODAY

Superior Court Had But Little to Claim Its Attention Yesterday

The regular two weeks' term of New Hanover county Superior Court for the trial of civil causes only will come to a close this afternoon. Judge Oliver H. Allen, of Kinston, who is presiding, will hold court next week in Northampton county. There was but little to claim the attention of the court yesterday, and today there will only be argument of motions and signing of judgments, the jury having been dismissed yesterday for the term. The only jury trial yesterday was that of Sarah E. Porter, colored, against her husband, W. J. Porter, an action for divorce. A verdict in favor of the plaintiff was given. C. I. Rich, a negro lawyer of Rocky Mount, appeared for the plaintiff. In the case of Mary E. Irving vs. Pembroke Jones, et al., it was ordered that time be given to file answer.

Tax Listers From County.

Tax listers from the country townships of New Hanover will be at the Court House next Saturday when all who have not had an opportunity of listing their taxables may do so.

BACK FROM STATE CONVENTION

New Hanover's Delegation Returning From Meeting in Raleigh—Convention of the "Bloody" Sixth Senatorial Fight.

Delegates from New Hanover and other counties in this section to the Democratic State Convention, held in Raleigh Thursday and continuing until 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, began returning to their homes yesterday, most of them apparently satisfied with the result of the convention.

City Attorney Herbert McClammy and Mr. George Harriss left Raleigh Thursday evening and arrived early yesterday morning. The following were among the delegates returning last night: Hon. John D. Bellamy, Geo. L. Peschau, W. P. Mangum Turner, Chas. C. Loughlin, C. D. Weeks, Marsden Bellamy, Dick Kennedy, H. C. McQueen, John J. Furlong, Duncan McEachern, S. P. Cowan, R. H. Reville, Hugh MacRae, W. A. McGirt, James H. Cowan. Mr. G. J. Boney accompanied the delegation as far as Wallace, where he spent the night and will come on to Wilmington this morning. The train was delayed at Wallace for more than an hour on account of an accident to a freight train between Walace and Wilmington.

H. L. Lyon and Jackson Greer, Esqs., of the Columbus delegation, arrived last night on their way to their homes at Whiteville.

The Wilson delegation from New Hanover expressed entire satisfaction with the result of an "endorsement" rather than "instructions" and express every confidence in the delegates at large selected by the convention. The returning delegates say that the greatest fight of the convention was on the platform committee's report, which was bitterly fought insofar as it singled out the Senators and Representatives for endorsement, the Kitchin forces in the Senatorial fight opposing an endorsement of Senator Simmons. New Hanover cast her 14 votes, 9 1-2 for Simmons and 4 1-2 against endorsement of the Senior Senator. Coumbus made about the same division of her vote.

There was also much interest in the convention of the delegates from the counties composing the Sixth district. Returning delegates last night state that there was no election of a Congressional executive committee as these will be chosen in the primary to be held this month in the several counties. This became confused in the press reports evidently with the district's recommendation of members of the State Executive Committee to the State Convention and subsequently ratified. Members of the State Executive Committee from the Sixth District are E. F. McCulloch, of Bladen; W. S. Cook, of Cumberland; Geo. H. Bellamy, of Brunswick; John J. Furlong, of New Hanover; A. W. McLean, of Robeson, and H. L. Lyon, of Columbus. As the district is entitled to only six members of the State Committee, Harnett was given no representation.

The real fight, however, in the Sixth District convention was on the four delegates to cast two votes in the Baltimore convention, these being understood to be divided between Wilson and Underwood. Mr. G. Herbert Smith led the fight for the Wilson forces proposing the names of Messrs. McQueen, of New Hanover; A. J. McKinnon, of Robeson; O. L. Clark, of Bladen, and F. H. Stedman, of Cumberland. Immediately upon the proposition, J. R. Kennedy, of New Hanover, moved that the name of Stedman be stricken from the list and that of J. B. Underwood substituted. Cumberland retired for a caucus and shortly thereafter came in when a roll call vote as between Underwood, of Cumberland, and Stedman, of Cumberland, was called with the following result by counties:

	Underwood	Stedman
Brunswick	6.5	6.5
Columbus	33	9
Cumberland	33	7
Harnett	32	0
New Hanover	24	18
Robeson	58.5	1.5
Total	211.0	42.0

Hon. J. A. Brown, of Columbus, was named for elector from the Sixth district without dissent.

A vote to adjourn the convention in order that delegates might get into the State convention on time prevented a fight as to instructions or no instructions and the delegates, of course, are uninstructed.

After it was seen that neither of the two candidates from this district could be nominated New Hanover cast her entire 14 votes for E. L. Daughtridge, of Rocky Mount. The two candidates in this district were E. F. McRae, of Robeson, and James G. Shaw, of Cumberland. When it became apparent that neither could be nominated, this county's delegates began pulling for the Rocky Mount man. In the vote for two Corporation Commissioners New Hanover gave Pell and Travis, who were nominated on first ballot, 10 votes each, the remaining four votes being given to other candidates.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, of this city, spoke in favor of the minority report of the committee on platform and resolutions, during which he severely arraigned Senator Simmons.

Power for Mills

Thursday's Lumberton Robesonian says: "It was mentioned in Monday's Robesonian that the Lumberton and Dresden Cotton Mill companies had contracted with the Yadkin River Power Co., for electric power. Mr. W. A. Leland, a representative of the power company, spent Tuesday in Lumberton for the purpose of locating a site for a power station. He secured options on sites from Mr. G. G. French and the Lumberton and Dresden mills. The company expects to be able to furnish the mills with power by November 1st."

Excursion Postponed

On account of the extremely unfavorable weather the excursion on the steamer Wilmington, planned by the Christian Endeavors of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for last night, has been postponed to a date to be named later. Tickets purchased for last night will be good on the postponed date when announced. The trip will be given in about two weeks, it is hoped.

CHANGE IN HOTEL

Colonial Inn to Be Operated Strictly On European Plan

It is announced that after June 15th, the Colonial Inn, corner Third and Market streets, will be operated solely on the European plan and that the dining room will be discontinued. On this date the present lease on the property will expire, and Mrs. D. Rountree, who has been in charge for a number of years, will retire from the management, as she does not feel physically able to continue the work. Mr. D. Rountree, her husband, will lease the building and will operate it strictly as a sleeping and rooming place.

The Colonial Inn is popular with a large number of traveling people, who have made it their stopping place while in Wilmington. They will no doubt regret to see the excellent dining room service discontinued, but as the building is located in a quiet part of the city, and is accessible to the business districts at the same time, many will doubtless continue to bestow their patronage upon it.

To Speak at Lumberton.

Thursday's Lumberton Robesonian says: "Mr. R. D. Caldwell, president of the Industrial and Commercial Club, some weeks ago wrote Mr. C. N. Evans, president of the Southern National Bank, of Wilmington, asking that he come to Lumberton and make the club a speech. Mr. Evans answers to the effect that he will be here to address the club at a smoker to be given in the club rooms next Thursday evening. His subject will be 'The Building of a City.' Mr. Evans is a brother of Mr. T. C. Evans, cashier of the Farmers & Mercnants' Bank, of Lumberton."

To Preach Tomorrow.

Rev. Lacy I. Maffitt, of Kiangyin, China, will preach at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow at 11 A. M. and 6 P. M. He has served several years as a missionary in China and will have some interesting things to tell about his mission and famine relief work. Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, the pastor of the church, will be at Clarkton to install Rev. R. A. Lapsley, the new Presbyterian minister called to the church in that town.

Makes the Nation Gasp.

The awful list of injuries on a Fourth of July staggers humanity. Set over against it, however, is the wonderful healing by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, of thousands, who suffered from burns, cuts, bruises, bullet wounds or explosions. It's the quick healer of boils, ulcers, eczema, sore lips or piles. 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy.

GERMANS ENJOY LIFE.

The Visiting Jackies Are Entertained at Newport News.

Norfolk, Va., June 7.—Five hundred officers and sailors of the German fleet now at anchor in Hampton Roads, were today guests of the Newport News and Old Point Railway Company. The visitors left their ships at noon and boarded special cars at Old Point, from which place they visited the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company. Later they went through Hampton and Phoebus to Buckroe Beach, where they were entertained throughout the afternoon. During their visit to the shipyard the Germans had ample time to view the dreadnaught Texas, which was recently launched there for the United States government, and their interest in the big fighter was keen. At Buckroe Beach all of the amusements were thrown open to the visitors and they fully enjoyed every sport from dancing to the toboggan slide. A feature of the entertainment at the Summer resort was a German luncheon in the big pavilion. Before leaving, the visitors gave three cheers for the American girls, many of whom were on hand and who assisted in the entertainment.

The vessels of the fleet, the battleship-cruiser Moltke and cruisers Bremen and Stettin, are scheduled to sail for New York tomorow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will arrive at that port early Sunday afternoon.

ANNUAL RECEPTION GIVEN

St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A., F. & A. M., Host Last Night at Masonic Temple—Two Excellent Addresses Heard on its "Antiquity."

Featured by a brilliant address by Right Worshipful Henry Banks, Past Grand Master, of LaGrange, Ga., and another by Most Worshipful William B. McKoy, Grand Master of North Carolina, the annual reception and supper of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., was held in the Masonic Temple last night. Despite the exceedingly inclement weather, the attendance was excellent, about 110 being present.

In addition to the speeches, the evening was made more interesting by an excellent musical programme, including vocal selections by Mr. H. R. Bates and the Acme Male Quartet, composed of Mr. W. R. Dosher, 1st tenor; Albert L. Dosher, 2nd tenor; William A. McGirt, 1st bass; William B. Muse, 2nd bass. Mr. Edward H. Munson was the accompanist.

By no means the least enjoyable feature was the banquet, which was a very elaborate one, served in fitting style and done ample justice to by all present. On the menu were: Soft shell crabs on toast; spring chicken; North Carolina ham; tomato and shrimp salad; beaten biscuits; new potatoes; green peas; coffee; fruit punch; orange ice; ice cream; Pall Mall cigarettes and Coretz cigars.

Mr. B. A. Merritt officiated as master of ceremonies, introducing Mr. Banks in a very neat little speech. The speaker's subject was the "Antiquity of Masonry," and it was as unique and refreshing as it was inspiring. Interspersed with witty anecdotes and appropriate illustrations, touching the sublime as well as the ridiculous, the talk was one of the best ever heard in the lodge room here. Mr. Banks referred very impressively to the duty of Masonry to the rest of the world, tracing the history of the fraternity back to the days "when the mem'ry of man runneth not to the contrary." He was given prolonged applause when he completed his talk.

Grand Master McKoy made his usual interesting and eloquent address and was, as always, heard with deep and genuine pleasure by all present. He ably seconded the inspiring sentiments expressed by the former speaker, expressing in a most eloquent monner the beauty of the teachings of Masonry. He was heartily applauded as he resumed his seat.

The committees for the reception were as follows:

Entertainment: J. S. McEachern, I. W. Solomon and A. S. Holden; music: J. W. Fleet and Prof. Geo. L. Johnson; reception: E. P. Bailey, H. A. Huggins, T. D. Love, L. A. Scott, S. R. Keyes, C. L. Meister, Linwood D. Latta, Edward E. David, Wm. A. Whitney and Edwin A. Metts.

The reception lasted until a late hour, and the member of the lodge feel that it was in every particular one of the most highly successful and thoroughly enjoyable that has ever been given in the city.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Although weather conditions appear unfavorable in the extreme, it is quite probable that there will be a large number of visitors on Wrightsville Beach, at the different hotels, for the week-end. However, the hotel men are not downcast in the least, for they know full well that within a few days at the outside their hotels will be filled with guests. CANAL FUND EXHAUSTED.

Proceeds of Bond Issue Wiped Out by Latest Expenditures.

Washington, June 7. — The entire proceeds of the Panama canal bonds of 1961, issued less than a year ago, have been spent. The last of the loan was wiped out yestterday by the progress of the waterway that will sever the American continent. Officials of the treasury do not contemplate issuing any more canal bonds during the present administration.

Secretary MacVeagh yesterday disbursed $1,000,000 for the construction of the ditch. The amount not only exhausted the proceeds of the bonds and their premiums, but in addition, deducted $599,000 from the general fund of the treasury.

The construction of the waterway, like the ordinary expenses of the government, it is expected, will be borne by the receipts from customs and internal revenue for months to come. If necessary, Secretary MacVeagh could issue $136,307,000 in canal bonds at once. That amount has already been spent out of the general fund and by an act of Congress is reimbursable by bonds. The total cost of the waterway, it is estimated, will be $375,200,980. Of this $274,908,000 has been expended to date.

DENTIST NOT KILLED.

Believed to be Wandering Around in Mental Disorder.

Alexandria, La., June 7.—Dr. J. W. Gibson, Mision, Texas, dentist, thought to have been murdered last Sunday and his body thrown into the Red river here, but who was seen near LaCompte later, has again dropped from view and his whereabouts are unknown. Mrs. Gibson is stopping at a hotel here. Dr. Gibson spoke with Rev. Henry B. Mercer, of Pineville, Monday, on a train which he left at LaCompte. Rev. Mercer said Dr. Gibson appeared to be under a mental strain, haggard, bedraggled and unshaved, and told a story of being assaulted by two Mexicans.

COLLIE RESCUES MISTRESS.

Infuriated Cow Had Charged and Trampled Upon Mrs. Winn.

New Albany, Ind., June 6.—Her faithful collie rescued Mrs. Wiliam Winn, of this county, from beneath the hoofs and horns of an infuriated cow yesterday.

Mrs. Winn was walking through the pasture when the cow attacked her. She fell and the cow was charging with lowered head when the dog intervened and seized the cow by the nose.

The dog was shaken off, but succeeded in transferring the cow's attention to itself, while Mrs. Winn made her escape.

Aged, Wrinkled Faces Easily Rejuvenated

(From The Beauty Seeker.)

An aged face is often only a mask to a comparatively youthful person. Beneath is a countenance young and fair to look upon. It's a simple matter to remove the mask. Ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, gradually absorbs the worn-out surface skin; in a week or two the user has the loveliest pinky white complexion imaginable. An ounce of the wax usually is sufficient to complete the transformation. It is put on at night like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water.

This remarkable treatment, is invariably effective, no matter how muddy, sallow or discolored the complexion. Freckles, mothpatches, liver spots, pimples, blackheads and other cutaneous blemishes, naturally vanish with the discarded skin.

To remove wrinkles and flabbiness, here is a recipe that cannot be too highly recommended: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in 1-2 pint witch hazel. Use as a wash lotion.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Sunday School at Immanuel church tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock; preaching at 11. Christian Endeavor Society meets at 7:15 and evening service at 8.

—A special meeting of the City Council has been called by Acting Mayor M. G. Tiencken for 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose of considering the form of application of a person desiring license as a chauffeur.

MUST FACE SEA'S RISK.

White Star Director Thinks Limits of Safety Have Been Reached.

London, June 7.—The disaster to the steamer Titanic has done little to alter the views of Harold A. Sanderson a director of the White Star Line, as to the sufficiency of the present equipment of transatlantic steamers for all practical purposes.

"There are," said Mr. Sanderson, at today's wreck inquiry, "certain risks coming from the sea which it is impossible to eliminate, just as there are on land."

The witness emphasized the fact that small boats were carried only for the purpose of transferring persons from ship to ship or from ship to land, and said that if more seamen were carried in order to man additional boats, they would have nothing to do until there was a wreck.

Questioned regarding the space given up for the accommodation of wealthy passengers, Sanderson replied:

"If there were anything more that we could do to insure the safety of passengers the millionaires' suites would not stand in the way."

Tax Listing Closes Today.

Today until noon will be the last call for listing taxes in Wilmington township. The recent extension of the tife for one week by the County Commissioners was quite welcome to the public and each day this week the headquarters of the listers in the basement at the Court House has been crowded. The time limit will expire at noon today and those who fail to ist will be subject to indictment under the law. Delinquents are asked to call and attend to this important duty.

..Theatrical..

There will be two big features at the Grand Theatre today for the Saturday throngs, with stil a third high-class picture that will combine with the excellent music of the orchestra and the general pleasant air of the house to make this one of the banner days of the week at this popular amusement place.

"A Child of the Wilderness," is a Selig of dramatic human interest, a heart story of the early West, written and produced by Hobart Bosworth. The other topliner is "Tomboy Bessie," a Biograph farce comedy, and "Algy, the Watchman," on the same reel. Booze Marcy, a drunken prospector decides to head for Nevada with his frail but patient wife and baby boy in the "Child of the Wilderness" film. Booze's cruelty becomes worse and at last his child dies. After a crude burial they resume the trip northward. Booze meets a tribe of Indians and sells "Little Joe" into bondage, while the little girl goes to a squaw. They grow up and finally with the aid of a brave and fearless cowboy, they secure their freedom. The tomboy story and that of the watchman are excrutiatingly funny and will cause a roar of laughter from start to finish.

At the Bijou.

The new Bijou is certainly attractive for both old and new patrons. The delightful auditorium and the always feature bills are proving most pleasing to the hundreds of people who gather daily at the pretty amusement pavilion. "Who's to Win" is one of the feature films today and it proves that the race isn't always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong. The modest man and the mild-mannered man wins where the blustering braggart loses. You can catch more flies with molasses than with vinegar and the picture shows how it is done. "A Lodging for the Night" is another feature film and tells of a young writer who stops in a town to get local color for a story he is writing. He stops at a Mexican inn and during the night there is an attempt to rob him. He has befriended a Mexican girl in the town during the day and she comes to his rescue at the last moment. The young writer is furnished a real heroine in real life. The Bijou is always cool and pleasant and it is a real delight to spend some time there.

REACTION FOLLOWS ADVANCE

Renewal of Previous Day's Buying Movement Caused An Advance In Cotton—Close Was Barely Steady, Unchanged

New York, June 7.—A renewal of yesterday's buying movement caused an advance in the cotton market today, but prices reacted later and closed barely steady, net 2 points higher to two points lower. The opening was steady at a decline of three points on July, which was influenced by disappointing cables, but generally unchanged to two points higher and prices were about 7 to 9 points net higher during the early trading on big overnight buying orders. Wall Street and Southern shorts were supposed to furnish the bulk of this demand, while there was a demand for July from some of the leading spot interests. The buying, however, slackened at the early advance, which represented an improvement of over $2 per bale from the low prices of last Monday and the market developed a tendency to ease off under realizing of local selling for a turn. Aggressive offerings were restricted by talk of too much rain in the Eastern belt and a few complaints of grassy fields, or a sappy plant, and trading which had been very active at the start became comparatively quiet during the middle of the day. There was another little flurry just before the close, owing to increased local pressure or more active realizing and last prices were at practically the lowest of the day.

Continued reports of a more active spot demand and firmness in the Southern spot markets probably helped the early advance, in connection with the trade buying of the near months. Houses with Southern connections were sellers here during the morning, and it was rumored that some of the larger longs reduced their lines on the early advance.

Receipts 3,167 bales, against 5,270 last week and 4,436 last year; today's receipts at Galveston 615, against 7 last year; at New Orleans 168, against 2,470 last year and at Houston 724, against 44 last year.

Spot closed steady. Middling uplands, 11.64; do. gulf, 11.90; sales, 1,500 bales.

Futures closed barely steady.

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs.

After a frightful coughing spell a man of Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs had been broken. What-agony Dr. King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonsful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption today if I had not used this great remedy." It's guaranteed to satisfy, and you can get a free trial bottle or 50-cent or $1.00 size at R. R. Bellamy.

STOCKS MOSTLY IRREGULAR

Market Was Governed to Considerable Extent by the Foreign Situation. Copper Producers Make a Report.

New York, June 7.—The local stock market today was governed to a very considerable extent by the foreign situation. London's prices for American issues before the opening here reflected a degree of selling pressure, which doubtless originated in Berlin, where the approaching mid-year settlements are awaited with some anxiety. Very recent domestic political developments were received with apparent indifference, but it may be assumed that Wall Street is making more than the customary preparations to neutralize any alarm that may result from the outcome of the National conventions. Technically the market is inherently sound, if for no other reason than that public interest in it for the last few weeks has grown increasingly negligible.

Among the new news items of direct market interest was the May report of the Copper Producers' Association, which showed a large decrease in supply of the metal on hand. Copper shares were steady to strong in the dealings, but fell off later in common with the balance of the active list.

The stock market as a whole was irregular or heavy throughout the session, with prices at their lowest level in the last hour on the news that the United States Supreme Court had reversed the Commerce Court's findings against the Inter-State Commerce Commission in several important decisions.

Time money worked towards greater ease today, the rate for 90 days being approximately the same as for two months—namely 3 per cent. Demand for commercial paper is on the increase with a reduction to 3 1-2 per cent. for prime quality.

Bonds were irregular with weakness in Wabash issues. Total sales, par value, $2,222,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call. Total sales today 393,600 shares.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

Progress of Crops Responsible for Larger Volume of Trade

New York, June 7.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Better, more seasonable weather and the progress of the crops towards points where progress itself can be measured are responsible for a further expansion in the volume of final distributive trade. This is, of course, most marked in retail trade in the larger cities and industrial centers and less so in the country in the districts where farmers are still wrestling with the obstacles imposed by an almost uniformly late planting and growing season.

Dry goods and light Summer wearing apparel are feeling the stimulus of the weather and some re-order business is being engaged by jobbers who also find an additional impetus to trade in semi-annual mark-down sales to close out stocks of Summer goods. There is a fair trade in Fall goods, but this is governed by a studied conservatism bred of political uncertainties and desire for a clearer view of crop probabilities. The industries are rather in good shape. Iron and steel report close to maximum production, though new demand is not so marked. The bulk of the trade shows a good increase for May and the five months and the coal trade having resumed work, demand and distribution are better. Reports from the cotton goods trade still display some of the cross currents hitherto noted. Some lines of goods are closely sold up. Others, such as heavy yarns and wide prints are softer. Still the general report from nearly all lines is that stocks are not in any sense burdensome. Business failures in the United States for the week ending June 6th were 197, against 231 last week and 232 in the like week of 1911.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Cotton Has Advanced on Unfavorable Weather—Spot Markets Are Very Strong—The Outlook Is For A Small Crop

New York, June 7.—Cotton has advanced owing to several causes. First, the weather has latterly been unfavorable. There have been reports of too much rain in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, while at the same time more rain is needed in Tennessee, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. Meantime, the spot markets have been strong. This is a reflex of remarkably large exports this season. They are now practically 10,275,000 bales and it would not be surprising if they were increased by several hundred thousand bales more before the end of the season. No such exports were ever before known in the history of the American cotton trade. American spinners and trade interests have been steady buyers. The government report on June 4th was not so bad as some had expected. Still it was nearly 9 per cent under that of the same time last year. The concensus of opinion among the bulls is that the outlook is not favorable for a big crop. Some critics predicted a crop of nearly 13 million bales on the basis of the government report. But bulls contend that what the country needs is a crop of fully 14,000,000 bales if not more. It was noticed in the fore part of the week, even after the government report was received, that the market showed noteworthy resisting power. It dragged along, however, with no great activity until Wednesday, when the reports of excessive rains in the Atlantic and Eastern Gulf States which caused a sudden outburst of trading which on Thursday swept prices up 25 to 27 points in short order. Large Wall Street interests bought on a big scale. In a few hours they are said to have purchased 50,000 bales. Nor was this all. They had been buying for some days and are supposed to have taken within 48 hours some 75,000 bales.

In many cases they bought heavily. The Waldorf-Astoria shorts became alarmed. On Thursday they bought some 25,000 bales. Big spot houses also bought freely. Room traders who had taken the short side covered with precipitancy. There is an undercurrent of bullish sentiment here, however, which bears have found it prudent not to ignore. It is based on expectations of a short crop and a big consumption. Excessive rains in Georgia are being emphasized by the bulls.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, June 7.—Estimates cutting the probable yield of Winter wheat 10,000,000 to 25,000,000 as compared with May reports, helped to take the cereal today to a higher level. The market closed steady at an advance of 1¼ to 1¼ to 1⅝@1½.

Corn scored a gain of ¼ to ⅝ over last night and oats, ½ to ⅝c. In provisions there was a decline of 2½ to 5c

DELEGATES WILL STICK

Taft Holds Conference to Discover Defections in the Ranks

Washington, June 1.—President Taft, through conferences with Representative Republicans from Southern States, is seeking to learn firsthand what ground there is for the rumors that there will be defections to the colonel from the delegations pledged or instructed for the President. He talked today with leaders from Florida and Virginia. His guests at luncheon were H. S. Chubb, National committeeman, and W. R. O'Neal and Henry W. Bishop, delegates from Florida; Representative C. B. Slemp, State chairman and L. P. Summers, delegates from Virginia, and Judge J. B. Gaston, a delegate from Georgia.

After the luncheon Mr. Summers said that Virginia's 24 votes would stand firm for the President. "The man who casts aspersions on the Southern Republican," declared Mr. Summers, "does not know his ground. There may be individual instances of desertion among the Southern delegates, but there will be no such black spot in Virginia."

Speaking for the Florida delegation Mr. Chubb said:

"There is not a rotten spot to be found. It is not a question of dislike for Colonel Roosevelt, but one of personal honor and integrity. They come first."

HOAQUIEM MAYOR RECALLED.

Because He Espoused Cause of the Industrial Workers.

Hoaquiem, Wash., June 4.—The Rev. Harry Ferguson was recalled yesterday as Mayor of Hoaquiem as a result of the Industrial Workers of the World disturbance here several weeks ago.

Ferguson espoused the cause of the Industrial Workers in their fight against the Hoaquiem saw mills.

Untwist It.—Fred and Jack, little brothers, hitched their goat to a new wagon their father had bought for them. Fred, the younger, got in to drive off, but "Billie" stubbornly refused to budge, whereupon Jack stepped up and gave the goat's tail a vicious twist or two, at which "Billy" made off at a lively gait, to the great pleasure of Fred, the driver. When the goat got started he did not slow down, but went faster and faster, to the great dismay of Fred, who, much frightened, cried to his brother: "Jack, Jack, untwist it, untwist it."—Mack's Monthly.

ARKANSAS MEETS TRIALS.

Two Accidents, One of Them Serious, Happen to Battleship.

Rockland, Me., June 4.—In spite of the fact that she ran on an uncharted reef and injured her outer bottom, while on her way into this harbor Sunday afternoon, the new battleship Arkansas was able to meet all requirements in her speed trials today.

During the trials the Arkansas met with a second accident, an interior one, which necessitates the cutting out of the low pressure turbines. Officials declared the accident was not serious.

When the Arkansas met with her accident Sunday she struck forward under the first engine room, denting the outer bottom, composed of three-quarter inch steel, for a distance of nearly 50 feet, and shearing off scores of rivets. The vessel listed for a few minutes, but soon righted itself and proceeded to anchor.

Members of the crew say that the vessel is leaking badly, and that the pumps are worked constantly. It is admitted that had the injury to the hull been a little higher up the accident would have been of a much more erious nature.

COUNT'S NARROW ESCAPE

Attempt at Assassination of House President at Budapest

Budapest, June 7.—Count Tizca president of the lower house, had a very narrow escape from assassination in the diet this morning. He was fired on three times by Deputy Julius Kovacs, who then shot himself, probably fatally. Count Tizsa was unscratched.

Kovas was one of the most militant members of the opposition and was among those who were rejected from the Chamber Wednesday because of disorderly conduct. He was suspended for several sittings, but this morning, when the Chamber reconvened, he managed to get into the press gallery.

Soon after the proceedings opened Kovacs moved to the front of the gallery and shouting, "There are still opposition members in the Chamber," drew a revolver and emptied three chambers in the direction of the presiden. Then he put two bullets into his own body.

The attack upon the count is an outcome of the agitation which has been persisted in since his election as Speaker May 22nd. Tizsa is an opponent of universal suffrage and on this issue his election was contested with a bitterness that culminated in violence in the chamber and bloodshed in the streets. Free fighting occurred around the voting urn and finally the whole opposition party left the chamber and Tizsa was elected by the government party.

That same night the Socialist Union proclaimed a strike. During the next two days there was much rioting and many persons were killed. The affair took on a revolutionary character and the government was compelled to compromise with the Socialists by inducing manufacturers to make concessions.

The men voted to return to work May 25th and the demonstrations shifted from the streets to the Diet. The opposition, by noisy tactics, prevented the passage of legislation, and the deadlock was unbroken until last Tuesday, when President Tizsa forced through the government's defense bills in the midst of a tumult, he next day when proceedings again were interrupted by the use of noise-making devices the police expelled thirty members of the opposition. Later three of the obstructionists were suspended for from 15 to 25 sittings.

If a man gives you a square deal in a horse trade you can trust him anywhere.

U. S. IS READY TO MEET EMERGENCY

ing the placing into commission of the army transports Meade, McClellan, Sumner and Kilpatrick for service in placing an army in Cuba, found the big ships practically ready for sea. Each has had a skeleton crew aboard for months, the furnaces were ready for the touch of a match and all that remained was to complete the crew list of each vessel and take aboard stores for which bids had already been secured. The local quartermaster department had been anticipating such an order and yesterday five weeks' supply of coal was placed aboard each in addition to that already aboard. Today the work of fitting out the Meade, Sumner and McClellan with stalls sufficient for the accommodation of 100 head of horses each will be competed, a greater part of the supplies and subsistence stores will be aboard and the crews signed on. All of the vessels are in splendid shape, each having recently been given a thorough overhauling at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, where they are now tied up.

THIRD ADD U. S. IS

Cannot Control Revolutionists

Tampa, Fla, June 7.—H. F. Yost, an American in business at Sancti Spiritus, Cuba, who arrived here today, declared the belief is general among Americans and other foreigners on the island that the government cannot control the revolutionists. He said tobacco raisers are selling their immature crops in the fields to speculators at 25 to 30 per cent of their value and that the speculators are placing armed guards on the plantations to watch the tobacco until it has been harvested and shipped.

Orestes Ferrara In This Country

Key West, Fla., June 6.—Orestes Ferrara, speaker of the Cuban House of Representatives, accompanied by his wife, arrived here this afternoon and left almost immediately for the East. Mr. Ferrara declared he was going to New York on personal business and declined to discuss in any manner the disturbed conditions in the island republic.

Large Expenditure Ratified

Havana, June 7.—The House of Representatives this afternoon ratified the action of the Senate of Tuesday authorizing President Gomez to expend $1,000,000 to cover the extraordinary military preparation.

Publication by the afternoon papers of dispatches stating that the American War Department might send an expedition of 5,000 troops to the province of Oriente created a profound popular sensation, the general impression being that such a movement was indicative of active intervention. President Gomez tonight declined to comment on this phase of the situation on the ground that he had not yet received official notification of the intention of the United States to send troops to Cuba.

The government is still without news from the zone of the hostilities in Oriente beyond reports of trifling skirmishes. Torrential rains are making the movement of troops impossible and greatly impeding telegraphic communication. It is rumored that General Monteagudo, commander-in-chief of the government forces in Oriente, is disgusted with the futility of his attempts to force the insurgents to accept combat and intends to resign.

The presence of American forces in the vicinity of Guantanamo apparently has had no deterrent effect on the acitivties of the insurgents who last night attacked and burned a village eight miles from Guantanamo. There is much speculation here regarding the sudden departure today of Colonel Orestes Ferrara, speaker of the House of Representatives for Key West. The impression is general that he is going to Washington as the special representative of President Gomez to President Taft.

The citizens of Havana continue arming rapidly. The government yesterday issued 1,400 permits to bear arms.

The police are daily arresting persons suspected of having connection with the uprising. The most prominent of those yet taken into custody is Gen. Juan Ducassi, a colored leader, who fought during the revolution.

President Gomez tonight issued a proclamation condemning the tendency of the press to print false or sensational news, inveighing against racial antagonism, and appealing to all citizens, black or white to rally to the support of the government. The President predicts the speedy crushing of the revolt.

DEATH TO TARIFF BOARD

House Fails to Include Money For the President's Pet

Washington, June 7.—The House today voted, 72 to 47 not to include in the sundry civil appropriation bill the money necessary to continue President Taft's tariff board during the coming fiscal year. The vote was prevented by a debate that grew acrimonious at times and was strictly along party lines.

Another brisk battle marked the considerations of the appropriations for public buildings. The committee had cut $3,500,000 from the estimates and a score of members sought to have the appropriations for their especial pet projects increased. None succeeded.

TO IMPEACH JUDGE HANFORD

Socialist Congressman Has Started The Proceedings

Washington, June 7.—Representative Berger today began impeachment proceedings against Federal Judge Hanford, of Seattle, who recently deprived Leonard Olsen, of that city, of his citizenship because he was a Socialist.

Representative Berger charged Judge Hanford "with high crimes and misdemeanors, a long series of corrupt and unlawful decisions and being an habitual drunkard." He asked that the judiciary committee investigate.

Boston, Mass., June 7.—The flower of American amateur athletic skill in the East, with a few exceptions, will gather in the Harvard stadium tomorrow to match speed, agility and strength in the hope of being found worthy to represent the United States in the Olympic games which begin July 8th at Stockholm. For the 18 events 188 men are entered.

TAFT FORCES WIN ALL OF CONTESTS

the anti-Taft people in the test then recorded.

An incident of the day was the rejection by unanimous vote of the brief of J. A. Comer, of Little Rock, in the Arkansas delegates at large case, on the ground that it contained "indecent and insulting language."

Members of the committee said later that proper regard must be shown for the dignity of the court, by which these cases were being heard."

Tomorrow work will begin with the remaining Arkansas cases and these probably will be followed by the Florida cases. The Florida cases cover the six delegates at large and two from each the First, Second and Third districts.

Murder, Says Dixon

Senator Dixon, at the Roosevelt headquarters, issued a statement tonight exorcating members of the National Committee.

"Until the roll was called on the Ninth Alabama district," says the statement, "I was not prepared to believe that a majority of the National Committee was prepared deliberately to murder the Republican party.

"The nation might as well know the truth. Three minutes before the roll was called on this contest Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, walked over to Mr. Stevenson, of Colorado, who holds the proxy of Senator Scott of West Virginia, and said to him: 'We simply cannot afford to go on record in this case against seating the Roosevelt delegates; the case is so plain the country will not stand for it.'

"Mr. Stevenson replied: We have to go on it. Of course there is not justification in fact, but if once we establish a precedent we will have to yield in other cases.'

"The theft was cold-blooded, premeditated and deliberate. With the record of the roll call of the Ninth Alabama Congressional district, I now deliberately charge that a majority of the National Committee, in violation of their sacred trust as trustees of the Republican party, in fear and hatred of Theodore Roosevelt, have entered into an agreement among themselves to unseat all and every Roosevelt delegate regardless of right.

"In his bitterness at being repudiated by the Republican voters Mr. Taft has now determined if possible, to wreck the party rather than permit it to win with Colonel Roosevelt as its candidate. But the National Committee is not the National Convention, as will be seen."

Mr. Stevenson denied absolutely the conversation attributed to him and W. Murray Crane anent the Ninth Alabama delegation and said he would demand that it be made right tomorrow.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 7.—"Justice, and no more than justice," is all he wants from the Republican National committee, Colonel Roosevelt said tonight. After hearing what happened in Chicago today when the contests from Alabama were decided by the committee, the former President spoke as though he was well satisfied with the situation.

Colonel Roosevelt indicated that it was his purpose to give his managers a free hand in fighting for contested delegates and would trust to their judgment. At all times, however, he will keep in touch with the fight as each move is made by means of his private telegraph and telephone wires to Chicago. So far as the Alabama contests are concerned, he said, he was willing to abide by whatever decisions his men in Chicago reached.

"They know the details and I don't," Colonel Roosevelt explained.

"In Alabama I thought one district was for me," he added.

Whether Colonel Roosevelt is to go to Chicago apparently was as far as ever from being decided today. In response to all rumors pro and con he simply said that he did not know.

B. & L. CONVENTION

Southern States Will Be Well Represented at Meeting

Atlantic City, June 10.—The New England States, Pennsylvania and New York are expected to send large delegations to the twentieth annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations, to be held in Atlantic City during the week of July 8th.

Illinois, Ohio, Tennessee and the Southern States, where the building and loan savings plan has attained wide popularity among moderately circumstanced people, will also be well represented according to advance advices, and the convention is expected to be one of the largest and most profitable the national league of savings funds has yet held.

The fact that Governor Woodrow Wilson is to address the convention here almost on the eve of the Democratic National Convention in Baltimore will be of particular interest to the delegates from Southern States, where the Governor's cause is particularly popular.

The Federal income tax upon corporations and its relation to certain classes of building and loan associations which are claimed by Federal authorities to be subject to taxation, despite the clear intent of Congress to exempt the savings of the poor man, will be a topic for stirring discussion in the convention. Two of the most important papers on this subject will be read by William J. Dippel, of Jersey City, and Spaulding Fraser, of Newark, both lawyers. Test suits have been started in New Jersey and Ohio to have the courts pass upon the unpopular attitude of officials of the internal revenue department.

The tax question threatens to become a political issue in some of the Western States.

Washington, June 7. — Attorney Frederick Pierpont Shaw, representative of the Chicago Title and Trust Company, who was acting under the orders of the Federal Court for the Northern District of Illinois in the case of the Central American Commercial Company, was assassinated June 5th at Black River, Triona, Honduras. The American legation at Tegucigalpa, in reporting the matter to the State Department, states that the assassin, who is not named, has been captured.

BILL FORMALLY REPORTED.

The Naval Appropriation Measure Carries Two Battleships.

Washington, June 7.—The naval appropriation bill, carrying the two battleships knocked out by the House, was reported formally today to the Senate. It also increases the number of submarines allowed by the House from four to eight, and provides for the million dollar 'round the world wireless eliminated by the House.

The committee advocates the re-establishment of the grades of admiral and vice-admiral, to be held by the commanding officer and second commanding officer, respectively, of the Altantic and Pacific fleets, as of "urgent necessity" with respect to the importance of the flag commands and the country's material National interests.

The bill would appropriate $1,000,000 for high power wireless stations to be located in the Isthmian canal zone, California, Hawaii, Samoa, Guam, and the Philippines. The bill would re-appropriate for a torpedo station near the Pacific coast, part of the fund to be available for the Puget Sound naval station, increase of limit of cost for the dry dock at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to $3,486,500 and appropriates $1,050,000 to continue the work on it instead of to complete it and establish coal and other supply depots at a total cost of $500,000.

Improvements costing $72,000 contemplated at the Rhode Island naval station and $300,000 at Charleston, S. C., for re-arranging the torpedo boat berthing, are provided for in the bill.

EMBALMERS LICENSED.

State Association in Session at Elizabeth City.

Elizabeth City, N. C., June 6.—The embalmers who are holding their 23rd, annual session of the State association, were tendered a fish fry this afternoon at Shiloh by a number of Elizabeth City's business men, which event was greatly enjoyed. The association is in session today and another session will be held tomorrow morning, which will close this meeting of the association.

Chairman Harry, of the State Board of Examiners, has given out the following list of successful applicants for embalmer's license; C. L. Ziegler, Elizabeth City; James L. Leightner, colored, Raleigh.

Miss Cullers made the highest grade of any lady that has ever taken the examination for embalmer's license.

Hartford, Conn., June 7.—It is unofficially reported here that Company I, Second Regiment, Connecticut National Guard, has been ordered in strike service at Middletown, and that troop A, of New Haven, is also to be sent to the scene of the trouble.

"White Crane"
is the name of a beautiful white bird, as also derives the name "WHITE CRANE" applied to the beautiful white flour, which makes it a pleasure for the housewife to say: "I thank you for the compliment, it is grand, and so easy to make with 'WHITE CRANE' flour.
My grocer recommends it—He keeps the best of everything. If yours don't, why call Telephones No. 256 or 1970, they will give you the names of those that do.
Don't forget to add "WHITE CRANE" flour on your order tday. It's the best.
